LAURENCE G. MASON

Dedicated by the class of June 1933 to Laurence G. Mason in appreciation of his loyal and enthusiastic support, vigorous leadership, and unfailing good fellowship.

Preface

With the publication of "The Four Year Plan" the final big enterprise of the senior A class has been finished. One hundred and ninety boys and girls have reached the threshold of young manhood and womanhood. Their minds have been moulded according to the four year plan which governs their high school education. True, the program, like many others, can be improved upon and has been. The many three and a half year students and a few three year students are ample proof of that. Yet one finds that the schedule, adequate for most, is insufficient for some, and the four year plan is lengthened to suit their fancy.

Many myths about school life are discredited time and again. We have learned that the faculty is more than a group of men and women drilling abstract ideas into unwilling minds. They are as much a part of the four year plan as are the studies themselves. School, to most of us, has become an interesting and inviting place and it is not editorial soft-soap when we say that we shall hate to leave.

In this book the staff has tried to give a crosssection of the class and the school as a whole, in the hope that "The Four Year Plan" may serve to interpret the underlying significance of a high school education.

The Editor.

RUSSELL F. HENRY

One of the most popular fellows in the class, is the class president. He played football for three years and was made captain of the team during his last year. Russ was a member of the Senior Play Committee and played the role of the detective in "Ghost Train". A member of the Hi-Y for two years, he was also on the Annual committee and staff. The class voted Russ the most respected, best athlete, and the quietest of the boys. He plans to prepare for Business Administration at Fordham University.

Thestinghouse DOROTHY M. KUSLER

Dot was voted the best leader in the class and she certainly has lived up to her name. If you want to convince anybody of anything, go to Dot; she'll do it for you. Between her eyes and her smile, she can make even teachers feel optimistic. Dot was secretary of the class during her senior year and also president of the school Bank. She has been an active member of Girl Reserves, Chemistry Club and Senior Gym Team. She is quite occupied now, folks, because she's got a new "secret passion". Bill is the name, and he is very nice.

Union

WILLIAM K. POTTS, JR.

Behold, the debonair Mr. Potts, alias "Teddy", the eccentric Englishman, starred in the class production of "Ghost Train". Bill was an active member of the Hi-Y for three and a half years, being president during his senior year. Besides being a letter man in football, Bill engaged in many class activities. He was class treasurer for his first two years and during his senior year, vice president of the class. He served on the dance and candy sale committees and was on the photography end of the Annual.

GEORGE A. DURGOM

When Mount Pleasant High School sent us George, we merely noted him, but now he is the most popular boy in the class. As cheer leader, and class treasurer for two years, Bullets made a pronounced success. The success of "Ghost Train" is owed partly to Bullets, who proved to be a very capable business manager. His presence was felt in the following school institutions: the Hi-Y for one and one-half years, Chemistry Club for one half year, and Student Prints for two years as agent. A lot of credit is due Bullets for his genial personality, ready wit, and cheerful manner.

Jackie Pleason's

Korking for father ANNETTE ROSANE ARANOFF

Annette is taking the commercial course, and she belonged to the Commercial Club for one half year. During her freshman and sophomore years she was a member of the Glee Club. Aside from membership in these two clubs, Annette did not go in for extra-curricular activities, but devoted her time to outside hobbies. She is fond of dancing, likes to play the piano, and read novels. Annette is not sure where she will go after graduation but will probably attend Pace and Pace. Her particular friends are Ruth Spitz and Mae Greenstein, with whom she is often seen.

NORMAN EDWARD ALBERS

Norman entered Bloomfield from Barringer High School, Newark. This change occurred when Albers was still a sophomore. While in Barringer, he participated in the activities of the Science and German Clubs. Norman has proven to be a likeable chap with a delightful personality, for which his many friends will vouch. It appears that there is a decided Cedar Grove contingent in the graduating class. Norman belongs to this select group of farmers. This chap delights in causing Miss Hough unnecessary trouble. He retreated from her English class via the window one day in May and his sudden appearance was unexpected.

W. EMERSON ACKERMAN

Emerson is one of the most versatile musicians of the class. For four years he played the sax in the band and the violin in the orchestra. In his sophomore and iunior vears he was a member of the Boys' Glee Club. Emerson was a member of the Latin Club during his junior year and, when a senior, joined the Chemistry Club. While a freshman and also when a senior, he was home room collector for the bank. Emerson is going to be a medical doctor and surgeon. His ambition and scholastic record certainly predict a successful career for him.

U. of Muchagan

Helen is out for a Ph.D., and ten to one she'll get it. In school her interests were manifold. During her freshman year she was class secretary. Later she belonged to the Latin, Chemistry, Girl Reserves, and Sphinx Clubs. Music has absorbed much of Helen's time, and she played in the Orchestra for three years. Her journalistic and literary talents were used in writing for the Student Prints and the Annual. Helen is something of an artist. She is going to Michigan State College and to Michigan University to study psychology. Some day she'll be able to tell people why they act that way.

George had a peculiar talent for stalling in P. D. class which he displayed to the delight of his class-Having a pleasing voice, mates. George made a capable debater. For two years he was a member of the German Club and served in the offices of secretary and treasurer. His interest in stamps urged him to join the newly formed Stamp Club, while for one term he participated in the activities of the Chemistry Club. The Boys' Glee Club was the recipient of his vocal aspirations for two years.

EVERETT R. ANDRUS

Ginny, whose sunny smile and ability to see fun in everything have won her many friends, is one of the more musical members of the gradnating class. She has belonged to the Orchestra for four years and to the Glee Club for a term. She was also a member of the Girls' Basket-ball Team for one year. She is a fine, helpful, companionable classmate and belongs to one of the popular groups in the school. Will Ginny make a good farmeress? Dame Rumor has it that Ginny's heart's in Long Valley and that's a farming district, you know.

Everett is one of the people who, so far as your correspondent has been able to find out, has a hobby. His hobby is that of tinkering around things mechanical and he seems to do it with a fair amount of success. Ask him to tell you about the trouble he had getting his father's car started when there was a too heavy grade of lubricant in the crankcase. Everett is also interested in chemistry and spends quite a bit of his spare time in the lab, besides being an active member of the Chemistry Club.

MARY ELLEN BAGLEY

ing class athletes. She played base-ball and basketball and in her third year captained the Girls' Basketball

Team. She has participated as member or officer in many of the school's organizations, including the Girl Reserves, in which she was vice president and the Dramatic Club of which she was treasurer. Mary Ellen also helped the class in the candy sales.

Her pleasant disposition and her delightful smile have made her one of the best liked girls in the class. Together with Rosemary Buie she formed one of the inseparable pairs.

Thansferred to Deleware University (Worners Creeye humak See)

ELEANOR BALDWIN

Baldie is friendly to everyone, yet few people in school feel they really know her. She is most often seen in the company of Margaret Donahue or Virginia Baerenrodt. Her school activities include two years in the Sphinx Society and one on the Red Cross Council. Reading, particularly technical works, occupies much of her time. Skating, sailing, and walking constitute her outdoor hobbies. Baldie's bright comments on current topics are a source of pleasure even to her casual acquaintances. When school is over, she hopes to enter the nursing profession but has not decided on the place of training.

Good looks have not found Bill lacking in intelligence or physical To many, he represents the ability. best all-round student. For three years Bill was a member of the Hi-Y and was secretary during his final year. As president and vice president of the Student Council, Bill showed his worth as a leader, while as a member of the track and basketball squads he performed with a degree of success. During his first and second years, Bill was vice president and secretary respectively of the class. He also served on the dance and candy sale committees.

Watt Hora clerk

Ed was the outstanding sign and poster painter in the school. handiwork was seen about the halls and in the class rooms advertising everything from the freshman B dance to the Senior Annual. Some of his best known signs were the large athletic schedules posted in front of the boys' gym and the big sign telling of the coming of "Ghost Train" which hung for a long time on the stage in the assembly. For three years Ed was on the poster staff of the Student Prints and he was also on the Annual Board.

A peppy cheer leader, a grand personality and a good student, that's right, it's Jane. She's been here for only two years, for Philadelphia is her old home town, but it didn't take her long to become truly "one of us". Jane's biggest and best accomplishment is her cheer-leading. She has also been on the Girls' Gym Team during her senior year and has taken an active part in the Girl Reserves and the Sphinx Society. As for her hobbies, Jane thinks that swimming is by far the nicest way to spend her spare time.

lieve in letting his studies make him blue. During his latter three years in high school, he was a member of the German Club. In freshman year, he was one of the committee for the freshman party. For two years, Henry took an active part on the class soccer teams. From class observances we believe that Henry will some day be one of the foremost authorities on Problems of American Democracy. In such an event, we wish him all the luck that is necessary.

RUTH ESTELLE BINGHAM

Ruthie is just a new girl in Bloomfield High School. She's really been here only a year. East Orange is her old home town. Ruthie has added a lot to the school since she came, especially with that charming smile of hers. As for a future, Ruth is un-decided; she doesn't know whether she wants to study music or take a secretarial course. Whatever she goes in for she's sure to be a success, that's certain. In Ruthie's spare moments you can find her either on the dance floor or in the swimming pool.

Bouncy entered Bloomfield High from West Side High, Newark, in her junior year. This was a loss to West Side and a gain to Bloomfield because Merle was one of the leading heroines in the Senior Play, "Ghost Train." Merle was voted the most popular girl or the Queen of Hearts of the senior class and of the school. She belonged to the Girl Reserves and the Dramatic Club for two years. Talented in pictorial as well as in dramatic art, Merle plans to study at the Newark Art School when she leaves her Alma Mater.

FRED L. BLACK

Four years in Bloomfield High School have made Fred Black admired. He was vice president of the German Club one year, and president of the Sphinx Club one year. The Radio and Dramatic Clubs found in Fred, a faithful worker. While a sophomore he joined the Glee Club and participated in that organization for one year. He played the role of "Saul Hodgkins" in "Ghost Train" and gave a fine portrayal of that difficult character. Fred was manager of the track team during his senior year, and gained his numeral in interclass basketball.

MILDRED BOCCHINOV

Small, dark, and quick as lightning is Mildred. The fact that she has been one of the ambitious few to complete the high school course in three years is characteristic of her. It is significant that her marks have been excellent too. Her list of activities includes one half year in the English Club and two years on the Student Council. Mildred, who has been following a commercial course, plans to enter the business world immediately upon leaving school. She says that she numbers sewing, reading, skating, and Belleville High among her chief interests.

STANLEY V. BURGER

Stan was born in West Orange but moved to Cedar Grove where he passed a quiet and uneventful but enjoyable childhood. To quote him on the subject, "I live in Cedar Grove and like it. Many people think that the place is not civilized but it is." He managed to pass the time in Miss Hough's classes by taking up petitions for the purpose of getting the windows opened or closed as the case might be. Stan likes hunting, fishing, swimming, baseball and skating, but dislikes girls and English. He expects to go to North Carolina University in the fall.

Blass academy -

Bob was voted the neatest boy in the class for he is always faultlessly dressed. He was the basketball manager for the season of 1931-1932, and on the sports staff of the Annual. Bob is the inseparable companion of Brad Stone, and the two are always seen together in or out of school. Bob's favorite sport is golf, but, while in high school, he went out for the track team. On leaving high school, Clarkie plans to attend a prep school before going to college.

MARIAN W. BOLENBACH

Marian is another of the three inseparables—Marge Russell and Jean Smith being the other two. Almost every morning Marian can be found near 211 which is Jean's home room. Marian has been a member of the Girl Reserves, the French Club and the Home Economics Club. She also sang in the Girls' Glee Club. She enjoys swimming very much and during the summer months, she can frequently be found at the Sunnyfield Pool. Marian's interests often take her to Brooklyn. After graduation, Marian expects to take up nursing.

WILLARD L. COLVIN Y

Did you say "Chost Train?" Yes. You guessed it! That affable young newlywed was none other than Bud Colvin in person. His full name is Willard L. Colvin but most people like "Bud" better. During his senior year, Bud was on the Chemistry Club Council and won the presidential vote of the Mathematics Club. Last year he was a Student Council member. Bud seems to have been in quite a number of activities. He was on the following committees: Senior Play, Junior Prom, Sophomore Banquet, Washington Trip, Freshman Party, and the Annual Board.

Histinghouse ALICE BONDAR

Al is the dark-eyed student in the class who really enjoys studying. Witness her graduation after only four years in this venerable institution. She enjoys ice skating and likes football games—those big shoulders get 'em. The Commercial and Spanish Clubs have her on their rosters which might account for her liking of office practice. After graduation, Alice will be taking dictation from some big banker (there are some left) on Wall Street. Al goes around with Anna Garnevich making up one of the famous teams in the class.

Kassison, M.J.
HELEN JOSEPHINE BOROWY

Bro is a demure miss. She is hardly ever seen without her side-kick, Nellie, perhaps because Helen likes "seeing Nellie home." Bro has been in the Commercial Club for a year and hopes to become a secretary or stenographer, in either of which capacities her quiet and pleasant ways will win for her her employer's and co-workers' admiration. For a year and a half, Helen was a member of the Girls' Glee Club. Although she doesn't seem to have much time for members of the other sex, Helen claims she isn't exactly a manhater.

ROBERT G. CORNWELL

Most of Bob's spare time is taken up by radio. He is an ardent radio fan and operates his own amateur station. He spent one summer vacation down at Camp Dix where he was trained in the military tactics of the signal corps. While he was in Bloomfield High School, Bob was a member of the Radio Club for two years. He also belonged to the Chemistry Club for one year. The future holds fine opportunities for Bob because of his friendly personality and his mental ability. He plans to go to college in order to prepare for radio engineering.

If Acie had a nickname, it would be "efficiency". Precise, with a touch of humor, quiet-well, in school anyway-and an apt student-that's a word picture of her. Acie is a three and a half year student and with excellent averages at that. She likes languages and shows it. You should hear her at her Latin and French! Acie plans to go to Hampton University in September. She is seldom seen without her favorite pal, luck, Acie. You'll make your own luck!

Lewarf Callege

What a sheik! What curly black hair! What a smile! But is he bashful! George is one of the quietest boys in the class. He never had the time to go out for school activities because he worked after school. No doubt he'll have plenty of experience when he applies for a job after he leaves high school. George hopes to become an engineer but it seems conditions may hinder his plans. He may continue as a clerk in a store as he has done in the past.

hemark academ KENNETH E. CRATER

Ken gets a lot of joy out of fooling around a chemistry lab he has at home. He belongs to the Chemistry Club and is interested in all the sciences, especially biology. September will see him at Dartmouth beginning a seven year medical course. Ken is also quite a sportsman, liking especially swimming, baseball, and football. It seems that Ken was the partial cause of the low state of the class's finances on its return from Washington. He and several other fellows devoted most of their spare time to separating unsuspecting victims from their money by means of the well-known African dominos.

that's Rosemary. Wherever she is, Mary Bagley is sure to be near. Her extra-curricular activities have included membership in the Girl Reserves during her junior and senior years, Dramatic Club, sophomore year, and Home Economics Club, senior year. Rosemary likes to read fiction and dance. Although she says she's not athletic, she likes to swim and to go to football games. Rosemary is a frequent visitor at Point Pleasant. She hopes to become a secretary after attending Katherine Gibbs School.

He is a modest, unassuming fellow, a friend to everyone who knows him. He has a Ford roadster with which he rips up the pavement. Jim's interest, besides basketball, seems to rest in a girl called Ann. All in all, he is as well-liked as any fellow in school, and should get along with the rest of the world.

RUTH A. COOK

Among those who know her well, Ruth is one of the most respected girls in school. It has been a source of continual pleasure to her fellow students to be in the same English class with her because of her gifts in reading and creative writing. In fact she was awarded a prize for poetry in the 1933 "Scholastic" contest. Ruth's school activities have included membership in the Girls' Glee Club and the literary staff of the Annual Board. She will attend the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy for four years. In later years she will continue writing as a hobby.

Phila Ich Osterpathy

It is seldom that one finds a girl as shy and retiring as Janet. Even Rosemary Buie and Mary Bagley, her closest friends, know comparatively little about her. She has been a member of the Girl Reserves and the Dramatic Club for one year each. Her hobbies include reading, dancing, and stamp collecting. In classes Janet has been known as a reserved little red-head who smiled affably on things going on about her, but who seldom entered into activities with the abandon characteristic of her comrades. She is uncertain as to what she will do after graduation.

JOSEPH A. CWIRKO V

Joe is a very nonchalant and self-contained young man, just as a senior should be. He has been a good student in chemistry and English, and does he know his French! Joe belonged to the Chemistry and Radio Clubs, and he intends to specialize in chemistry and English at Union College where he will go in the fall. No doubt he will be a success in his work. Joe's most absorbing hobby is golf and he has been interested in the school sports as a keen spectator.

Stella is a cheerful, friendly soul who has a quick, heart-warming smile. She is seldom seen without her pal Helen Jagacinski and their mascot Stella Glowacz. Stella is especially fond of dancing—yes, and she likes to swim and sing. She is a commercial student and has ambitions of being "somebody's stenog." Shorthand and typing are her favorite subjects, so she'll probably do her job well. She was a member of the Commercial Club during her sophomore year. By the way, she doesn't mean it each time she says, "See if I care!"

CLIVE HOWARD DAWSON

Clive attended Bloomfield in his last year only, coming here from East Orange High. He is known as a very neat dresser. His only social attachment has been Detention, where he became very friendly with the faculty advisers. This respected sheik is a pianist, though he rarely performs around school. In these hard times, Clive is one of the select few in the class to have steady jobs awaiting them. When he graduates he will start to work in Wall Street. He intends to attend the Business Administration School in New York City at night.

JOSEPH E. DANESKI, JR.

Joe is a good egg if you don't take him too seriously. Remember how he used to amaze Mr. Mason with his wierd interpretations of physical phenomena? When Joe became a junior, he decided that one of the lowest and most despicable crimes that could be committed was to read over someone's shoulder, so he subscribed for the Student Prints and has since been an "ardent reader". The German Club hails Joe as a wizard in the language it represents. His German is of a very original type, so original in fact that even he sometimes has difficulty in understanding it.

JULIA K. CORBO

It's a real pleasure to see Judie. She always wears that broad, cheerful smile on her face—by the way, a very attractive face! She is a commercial student and actually likes stenography and typewriting. She was an active member of the Commercial Club, and was interested in the Home Economics Club. Judie likes sports, and was a private in Miss Russell's corps, the Junior Gym Team. She plans to go to college in September where she will take a secretarial course. By the way, she is especially keen at swimming, dancing, and tennis.

HENRY C. DeWEILY

Where William Reinhardt is, there Henry C. DeWeil will be found also. These two fellows are regular buddies. Both are unassuming youths, confiding in each other explicitly. Henry was a member of the Spanish Club for one year, and during Senior Play days he lent willing hands back stage toward the success of "Ghost Train". Henry has taken the Commercial course in high school to prepare himself a career as an accountant. Coming from Cedar Grove, the chap is naturally a sports fan. His two favorite hobbies are tennis and baseball.

HELEN DARROW

Helen proved herself an all-round good sport during her four years in high school. She belonged to the Girl Reserves, Chemistry Club, Sphinx Society, and the girls' class basketball team, of which she was captain for the freshman year. She served on the Student Prints staff for three years and on the Student Council for two. She was a member of several class committees and was business manager of the Annual. Helen likes swimming, dancing, and interior decorating. She is uncertain as to what she will do after four years at Skidmore.

Hestinghous EDNA E. DEVTER

See that blonde hair and those nice blue eyes, folks. Well, that's Edna Deyter. She seems awfully quiet when you don't know her, but don't let appearances fool you. Edna has taken a very active part in the Home Economics Club during her four years of high school. After high school Edna plans to go out into the cold, cruel business world. It is said that she has an ardent interest in the Armory, so after hearing that, we wonder how she will really stay in the business world. Swimming and horseback riding are Edna's favorite hobbies.

Horking for Jather

Howard was a member of the Chemistry Club in his senior year. He is deeply interested in radio and was a member of the Radio Club in his sophomore and junior years, when he held the office of treasurer. Howard was a member of the Boys' Glee Club in his freshman year. He is quite a poet, although he is exceedingly modest concerning his abilities. He hails from the Brookside section of Bloomfield. The future may find Howard a very famous radio engineer. At any rate, his pleasant disposition has gained for him the best wishes of all his friends.

ellender rework / ecs BETTY DORAN

Betty is the smallest girl in the class. She has reddish-gold hair and plenty of freckles to match. Betty hails from Massachusetts. She would have been a very prominent student if she had attended Bloomfield High for four years, but Betty is a recent addition to the class. She was very well known in Massachusetts, and was secretary and treasurer of the sophomore class. She belonged to the Journalistic Club, Glee Club, Debating Club, and she was the Exchange Editor of the student publication. Betty is a member of the Bloomfield High School Chemistry Club.

Montclair hackers WALTER F. EITELBACH

Walt may be in the future one of our great scientists, although at present his studies are not foremost in his life. He finds other things far more interesting. During his four years in high school, Walter has come to the conclusion that he has achieved something. For two years, 1932 and 1933, he was a member of the German Club. He held the offices of secretary and treasurer during the latter year. When Walter entered Bloomfield he had no idea that high school was going to be so difficult. His parting words are, "Freshmen, take heed.

WILLIAM G. EPPLER

Have you ever noticed that little boy, William Eppler? He has the honor of being the tallest male in the class, reaching the enormous height of six feet, four inches. A very modest fellow, by his own assertion he is The German and a woman-hater. Chemistry Clubs bore his name on their rosters for one year. William is very interested in electricity and radio. This bespectacled giant is a proficient performer on the piano, though this fact is little known. He intends to be an engineer and is looking forward to entering Newark College of Engineering in September.

MARGARET AGNES DONAHUE

Nuisance is that noisy, happy kid everyone loves so much to have around. All grins, all impulsiveness and happiness-she is always the same. If you were never in one of Margaret's English classes, you've missed something by not hearing her hold forth on the strength and weakness of the ancients in a very modern way! Margaret plans to be a dentist's assistant. She is studying this at the Vocational School now. She'll surely make a pretty competent sort of assistant, because even if she were no help, her grin is a sort of healthy thing to have around.

P. G GEORGE B. FLENNER, JR.

George came to Barringer High, Newark, from the Philippine Islands. From Barringer he came to Bloomfield about two years ago. He was a member of the Barringer High School band. While in Bloomfield he was, for two years, a member of the Sphinx Society and as a senior he joined the Hi-Y. He was home room representative of the Student Council for one year. George was the assistant business manager of the Senior Play, "Ghost Train", and was also a literary editor on the staff of the Annual.

DORIS CAROL DURBORAW

Dottie is one of the most versatile girls in the class. She's a real good sport in everything. She has an active and constructive interest in music, and has been in the school Orchestra for four years besides having the distinction of being one of the few girls in the school Band. Her athletic ability is evidenced by her faithful membership in the Girls' Gym Team for four years. Whenever the class has any dances or parties it's always Dottie who has charge of the refreshments. Can she bake! Dot was one of the successful business managers for the Senior Play.

Drake, Houtelais

De Californio

MURIEL ADELAIDE DOREMUS

Muriel is from Brookdale and is very quiet, which may, or may not, be because she is from Brookdale. She is the unofficial representative of the Bloomfield younger generation of movie fans and usually spends her afternoons and pocket money at one of the neighborhood theatres. Around school, Muriel is often seen with her two chums, Margaret and Laura. Next October, she expects to take a trip to California. Muriel hopes to become a nurse and who wouldn't enjoy having a nurse who is a movie fan, plays the piano, types, takes shorthand, likes animals and has traveled?

CALVERT EVANS V

Calvert is one of the smallest members of the class. During his junior year, due to sickness, he left high school and went to live in northern New York state. He lived in New York for only about two months and didn't go to school while he was there. When Calvert returned to Bloomfield High School, he had acquired a country accent and his peculiar pronunciation was ridiculed by his friends. Calvert is not sure whether he is going to college, but if he does, he will pick Springfield as his place for further study.

EVELYN E. ESSIG

Ev is one of those quiet, reserved girls that high school couldn't do without, but who can vouch for her quietness outside of school? It is rumored that a certain lucky fellow who goes to Lehigh claims all her spare time. During her senior year Evelyn has taken an active part in the Girl Reserves and she has been interested in the Home Economics Club for three years. Evelyn has high hopes of becoming a filing expert when she leaves high school, but doesn't know how far she will be able to carry out her ambitions.

WALTER ALBERT FORNOFF

Walt was one of Miss Williams' prize English students. If you don't believe that, you can ask Miss Williams personally. What he couldn't think of to do to assist those long fifty minute periods in passing as rapidly as possible, Vic Grant could and did. Between the two of them, Miss Williams was kept busy demanding order. Walt had a lot of fun in the Commercial Club and would have had a better time in the Spanish Club if he had not been so busy trying to master the intricacies of grammar. Walt was a Student Council representative for one year.

JOHN F. FORSYTH, JR.

John was a member of the Hi-Y for one year. He belonged to the Commercial Club during his sophomore year, and when a senior B was an assistant business manager on the executive staff of the Senior Play, "Ghost Train". For two terms he took an active part in the Student Council. John contributed his services as a typist on the Annual Board. Besides his extra-curricular activities he showed ability in his class work. John's engaging personality and high ideals in life are bound to prove helpful in his fight to gain a place in the business world.

JANE DYEV

Here comes that good-looking Titian! Although she seems to be among the quieter members in our midst, Jane is well known throughout the school. She came to us two years ago from Glen Ridge. Her hobbies are limited to dancing and tennis, and from all reports she especially excels in tennis. She has many friends but there is one with whom you generally see her, a nice blonde by the name of Sue. Jane doesn't know quite what she intends to do after graduation but it is probable that she will soon be in the business world.

JOHN L. FORSYTH V

Mr. Crosby, veteran coach of Senior Plays, emphatically declares that, "The most valuable asset to a play staff is a live-wire property man." While Jack wasn't the property man, he helped keep the live wire live which goes to show what an assistant property man can do to make a play a success. Jack helped in that capacity in "Ghost Train." He was a member of the Spanish Club for one year and served as an agent for the Student Prints. Jack has a winning smile and dark hair, characteristics which make him a favorite of the weaker sex.

ELIZABETH CARROL FARRAND

Betty is a petite young lady with a very friendly smile, and that beautiful wavy hair that you so often read about. She seems rather a quiet miss when you first see her, but oh; when you really know her! Betty has been a member of the Girl Reserves and Chemistry Club, and has been on the Gym Team for three years. Oh yes, she has also taken a very active part in the Home Economics Club, of which she was president during her senior year. By the way, Chemistry and Home Economics are very congenial subjects.

ELEANOR M. FISHER

El's long line of class activities was climaxed by the portrayal of "Elsie" in "Ghost Train." She has served on several class committees and on the Annual Board as literary editor. In addition to these she has belonged to the Student Prints staff, Chemistry Club, and Girl Reserves, serving as secretary of the latter for one year. Her athletic abilities are evidenced by three years on the Basketball and Gym Teams. El's hobbies include dancing, brass buttons, and Rockport, Massachusetts. She will pursue a liberal arts course at Skidmore.

Rulgers Co. King

John was a member of the French Club during his sophomore and junior years in high school. He also belonged to the Sphinx Society for two years. John would probably make a good orchestra leader, but his longing for the navy outshadows his tendency toward the former career. John's favorite school day is Monday. that day he rushes to school early in order to be the first in line to bank his weekly allowance in the neverfailing school bank. His prize subjects are P. D. and Economics because they enable him to use his debating ability.

MARIE THERESA GALATI

Marie Theresa is much too long a name for such a small person, so naturally, it has been shortened to Tess. Her smiling, dimpling self has made Tess popular among all her classmates -girls and boys. Although she has been busy with her school work, she has found time to participate in many scholastic activities. She has been captain of both the junior and senior Gym Teams, and recently, Tess has been voted by her classmates as the best girl athlete. She has also been vice president of the French Club and was a member of the Student Prints staff.

LEWIS FRIEDLANDER /

Louie holds the distinguished position of having the longest name in the class. Although closely followed by Offschanka and Rubinstein, no one has quite equaled his record. Lewis was a member of the Band and Orchestra for three and one half years. In conjunction with Everett Andrus, has made quite a reputation for himself; for every lunch period, regardless of the temperature or weather, he goes out for a walk around the school, and, in accordance with Mr. Walrath's theory, he has never suffered any ill effects from his daily expeditions.

You have probably seen that dashing cheerleader, with the red sweater and the gray "B". Another thing to remember him by is the brush haircut. He was a member of the Hi-Y, Spanish, and Chemistry Clubs, and worked hard at these activities. He was on the Student Council, too. Bud originally came from the south, and his "Suthin accent" still clings. He used to sing hill-billy songs, to the accompaniment of his uke, and crack jokes, but for some reason or other he has stopped lately. And last but not least, it is rumored that ber name is Dot.

STELLA R. GLOWACZ

"Little Stella in a big way" is the title by which this young lady is known to her friends. She is one of the more ambitious students—she's graduating from Bloomfield High School in three and a half years. Besides that she has been active in various clubs—including the Home Economics, and Glee Clubs. Stella was also on the Gym Team. Her school record is hard to beat for Stella hasn't missed a school day since grammar school. Quiet and modest, she has the reputation of being dependable and a good sport. Stella is interested in athletics, especially swimming.

Phyllis is only a little girl, but that doesn't hinder her any. She's been in Bloomfield High School about a year and a half. Butler is her old home town. During her short time here Phyllis has proved herself a valuable member in both the French Club and Girl Reserves. After graduation, she will attend Newark Normal School where she will take a course in teaching and work for her A.B. degree. Phyllis says that she has always had a secret ambition to become a matron of an orphan asylum. It seems a rather strange ambition.

JOHN A. GORNEY

John is a very proud possessor of the largest blond mustache in the class (and perhaps in captivity.) Football and basketball are his favorite forms of recreation. He is a very hard working man, for he works every day after school from four to ten p. m. in a drug store. He has been with drugs so much that he has decided to stay longer. His plans for the future are to become a druggist, and next year he will attend the New Jersey College of Pharmacy which is a branch of the Rutgers University. He is often seen with Loretta Taylor.

Coleman's Bus Col. lu ELLA DORIS HALVORSON

And here's blonde Ella. A pretty girl, fond of reading, movies, dancing, and most all sports—that's Hal, as she is familiarly called. Her school activities have been many and varied, and include three and a half years on the Senior Gym Team, two years in the Orchestra (she played the violin but can play the piano also) two years in the Girls' Glee Club, one half year in the Home Economics Club, one year as a Girl Reserve, and one year in the Sphinx Club. Ella intends to enter a Secretarial school after graduation. Best of luck Hal.

VICTOR M. GRANT

Have you ever noticed that grand insect Vic drives around in? upon a time long, long, ago it was a Chrysler roadster, but times have changed and so has the Chrysler-for the worse—the thing's almost as bad as Hammond's Whippet. Vic was on the Student Council and a member of the Commercial Club in his junior year, although he almost had to resign when he bought the above mentioned roadster. You should have been back stage during the Senior Play rehearsals. Did the property man have to take a terrific beating? Absolutely! And Victor M. Grant was

ARNOLD HENRY GOULD

Arnold is one of the brighter variety that only take three and a half years to go through the mill instead of the customary four. He's a popular egg but seems to be one of the strong, silent type. You know the kind-but you never can tell-it might be only camouflage. Arnie is very punctual most of the time—to quote Mr. Ross on the subject, "It must be a case of heredity." It seems that a certain Miss Lucile M. has been receiving much of Mr. A. H. Gould's attentions but it might only be a rumor so don't take it seriously.

MAE GREENSTEIN

Here is one of the worthy few who work and go on to Seth Boyden, or become a professional singer of popular songs. Mae has studied voice with Miss Albinson and has been a member of the Girls' Glee Club for two years. She has been taking piano lessons, too, for six years. The girl with whom you always see Mae is Ruth Spitz.

Here is one of the worthy rew wild graduate in three and a half years.

Mae is smart enough to be doing just that. She is taking the commercial course but she isn't sure whether she will continue with that Howard. M.

THOMAS D. HECKEL V

Yes, Thomas is the son of a town councilman, but don't let that worry you. He has been a member of the French and German Clubs for two years. When he is not studying, he is usually with his tropical fish, rabbits, pigeons and bantums, all of which he himself raises and of which he is duly proud. For the past three summer vacations he worked in the Bloomfield Bank and Trust Company. There lies his future, for a position awaits him after graduation in June. Some day he may be a big banker if he keeps on as he has started.

BEATRICE HANLEY

Histinghouse Beatrice is one of the quieter members of the class but perhaps that is because she has not been with it very long. She is a traveler, having been to three other high schools before she came to Bloomfield. Montclair was her last stopping place. Her favorite subjects are commercial geography and English. She is one of the more studious class members and does not care for sports. Beatrice is quite undecided as to what she will do after graduation but she believes that she will be one of the many looking for Martelair Se. Schoo FLORENCE HARRINGTON

Cheerful, energetic Florence, is thoroughly enjoy-She is equally active out of She has been a member of the class. Junior Gym Team and is quite a dancing enthusiast. Why, we'd feel lost at a dance if Flo weren't there dancing as only she can! She has been a member of the French Club and the Chemistry Club. But besides being efficient, Flo displays a persistently merry smile.

CHARLES W. HAMMOND

Charles came to Bloomfield High School two years ago from the Mechanical Arts High School in Boston, Massachusetts. During his first year at Bloomfield he was a home room collector for the bank. In his freshman and sophomore years he was a home room representative on the Student Council. Charles had a prominent role in the cast of the Senior Play. He was appointed a member of the Annual committee and was also a literary editor on the staff of "The Four Year Plan". Charles' hobby is aviation and he worked at an airport one summer.

Eileen is one of the smallest members of the class with blonde hair and blue eyes. Quite a combination! She is also one of the few left with long hair. Her time is quite taken up with attractions outside of school, Montclair and the Vocational School being the two main ones. She is very much interested in dental nursing, and has ambitions of being a nurse to some popular dentist. During the winter, Eileen was quite a skater and now with summer here, one will probably find her at some lake or pool swimming.

GEORGE W. JERNSTEDT, JR.

Hats off to Doc. Jernstedt, member of the cast of "Ghost Train", and class edition of the famous screen idol, Clark Gable. George participated actively in the Chemistry Club for one year. He was elected president of the Stamp Club in his last year. His ability was displayed not only in academic work but as a member of the track squad for two years. His calm manner and dignified air have gained for him many friends in Bloomfield High School. George's college venture will be at Newark Tech where his personality and capacities should make him a marked success.

CHARLES EDWARDS HOOTEN

Charles, the class songster, whose vocal talents benefited the Boys' Glee Club for four years, was vice president of that organization during his senior year. He also belonged to the French, Chemistry, and Mathematics Clubs. Charles engaged in class activities to a great extent. He was a member of the cast and also of the stage crew of the class production, "Ghost Train". As a member of the Annual Board, Charles confined his efforts to photography, while for a whole year he helped augment the class treasury by selling candy. Charles will continue his education at either the University of Pennsylvania or Duke.

JEWELL HOERTH JEWELL HOERTH

Petite, chic, with dark hair and hazel eyes, Jewell has an attractive serenity of movement and speech. She has for some time been an interested member of the Bloomfield Junior Woman's Club, and in high school belonged to the Girls' Glee Club for two years. Jewell likes to dance, to swim, and to read the better modern novels. She is most often seen with Adele Walker, a blonde antithesis of herself, and with Sylvia Lipton. As for the future, Jewell intends to go to Columbia to study textile merchandising.

WILFRID OWEN JONES

Jonesey is a rather quiet fellow, but he is very active in his school work and its activities. He was a member of the Hi-Y for two years, serving as head of the "eats" committee for the second term of the 1933 year. He was on the football team one year and on the track team all four years of his high school career. He was elected track captain for the 1933 team. Wilfrid's one great ambition is to be a famous surgeon. Such a profession will enable him to "cut up" quite a bit.

JENNETTE CATHERINE JACOBS V

Jay is the small girl with the curly, honey-colored hair. If you see any-one coming along the hall holding Miss Taberner's arm saying happily, "I thought I'd die!"—look again and see if it isn't Jay. She says casually that she likes swimming and dancing, but there's real joy in her voice as she mentions canoeing. When it comes to studying, she is especially fond of biology. We liked Jennette's brisk way of reciting; it sounded well. By the way, that Jacobs-Taberner combination is almost more than a friendship; it's an institution.

HELEN MARGARET JACOBER

Helen is a quiet but brilliant star in the commercial department. Her friends describe her as always studying and getting 98's in shorthand as an established custom. She was a member of the Commercial Club in her junior and senior years. is seldom seen without Alice Moreland. Swimming and ice-skating figure among her hobbies. When school is over, she plans to go into business immediately. The quantities of work which she has done in addition to regular studies should be a fine recommendation for her efficiency.

WILLIAM E. JUNGE

Junk is the owner of one of the deepest voices in the class. Since his sophomore year Bill put that voice to good use in the Glee Club. For the last three years he has been a member of the German Club where he could, on occasion, be heard emitting strange gutterals supposedly German. He has been managing the bass fiddle in the Orchestra since his freshman days and belonged to the Band for a year. In his senior year Bill decided to join forces with the Chemistry and Mathematics Clubs and did some good work in those organizations.

tooking for work JOHN J. KALINOSKI V

Last November brought Jeanie to Bloomfield High School from Montclair. As she has not had time to get established in this school, she doesn't belong to any clubs or committees. Her favorite subjects are French and Biology. She is quite a biologist, so don't be surprised if you see Jeanie out in the fields, flourishing a large net, chasing butterflies and such. One of her main pastimes is reading novels and there is hardly a book in the library that she has not read. After graduation she expects to go to Upsala College in East Orange.

John was one of the quietest in-mates of room 211. However, his quietness is only a disguise, because to his friends he is known as one of the noisiest. He probably would not like the fact made public, but he is a great lover of poetry. John is another one of our future air pilots. His one great ambition in life is to hold a government job connected with the air service so that he can just soar all day long among the clouds. What a life! Well, lots of luck, John, and many happy landings.

HENRY KAISER

Judging from his nickname, "Sleepy", it is hard to imagine Henry Kaiser graduating in three and a half years. He must not be as slow as he appears. Henry is also a dweller in the "sticks", and is one of the daily commuters from Brookdale. He did not find time for participation in activities because of study, and never went out for sports for the same reason. However, he was a keen spectator. By the way, Henry's ambition is to become a C. P. A. and he has shown much interest in Business Practice.

mas Electric HELEN JAGACINSKI

Helen is a hundred percent Bloomfielder. She was born in Bloomfield, has lived all her life here and has completed her schooling in Bloom-field schools. Her pleasant smiling face is most frequently seen in the company of the two Stellas, known as "big Stell" and "little Stell". A good athlete, she is a member of the Girls' Gym Team. Helen admits that she adores dancing. Although quiet in school, she is the reverse in her outside activities. Did she ever tell you of the time when-? Helen hopes to become the secretary of some business man.

berger & Co. THOMAS J. KANEV

Here is one of those strong silent men who prefer red heads. The reference of course is to one Norma Von Fell. Tom is a quiet fellow well liked by his associates. He takes his time in going places but invariably gets there. Often Tom is escorted to school by Mr. Lawrence in the latter's car. He is graduating with the commercial group. During his junior and sophomore years Tom was a member of the German Club and for a half year he participated in the activities of the Commercial Club.

INEZ V. JOHNSON

Sweet, quiet, with beautiful blonde hair, that's Inez. She's so quiet that one hardly knows she's in school, but when she's not there, people miss her. Quite musically inclined, she was a faithful member of the school orchestra for two years and took an active part in the Girls' Glee Club. Inez has a voice as pleasing as her personality and enjoys singing for its own sake. She was also on the Junior Prom committee. After she leaves school Inez is going to study nursing. However, she has not yet chosen the ideal hospital.

BERTHA C. KAMIENICKI

Buzzie, who is a very quiet but efficient girl, can truly be called one of the song-birds of the graduating class, for she has a very sweet and pleasing voice. She is interested in music and singing, has studied voice in school and has been a member of the Girls' Glee Club. Buzzie appeared in several amateur theatricals, including an operetta. Although she has not participated in many extracurricular activities, Buzzie is well liked for her pleasant smile cheery disposition. One wonders what has happened to that yellow roadster which used to wait for Bert after school.

JOSEPH KANE V

Can you imagine anyone taking Economics and liking it? Well, Joe Kane did and he delighted in solving the problems of this world. Another subject that claimed his attention was economic geography. Tennis, swimming and ice-skating are his favorite sports. Reading takes up a good portion of Joe's leisure time. For four years he was often mistaken for Jimmie Kane and vice-versa. summer Joe will work with an insurance company. His plans for the future are with this same company. Quite often Shins can be seen warming up in Wright Field, where he plays baseball.

Horking for fother (Butcher) MARY KAPSCHUE

Kappy is one of those happy-golucky girls who believe in always going places and doing things. You may see her wandering along with her inseparable pal, Loretta Taylor. She is very much interested in book-keeping and may continue her studies for a business career next fall. Her pet hobby is ice skating at which she is very adept. Kappy was one of the lucky ones who could go to Washington and did she have a good time! Just ask her. She was also a gymnast on Miss Russell's Junior Gym Team.

RUSSELL THOMAS KIRK V

Russ was one of the literary editors on the staff of the Annual, "The Four Year Plan". He has been a member of the Hi-Y for three years, having joined in his sophomore year. Russ also was a member of the Chemistry Club for his last semester. He was on the track team in his junior and senior years. In his last year he was the varsity high jumper. Russ was noted about school for his more or less witty puns. His chief interest, however, seems to be in a certain young lady.

ALBERT C. KURDEK

Al is the kind of a friend that a fellow can always depend upon. His activities in school have not tended toward athletics but he was always on the go. He was a member of various dance committees. Al also took an active part in the Senior Play by holding a position on the staff. Outside of school, Al's interest turns toward his orchestra which he seems to be handling quite efficiently. He was a member of the Band for two years. When he finishes school he expects to take up journalism.

Horling Jay Colf Dress Shap HATTIE H. RELLETT Lewert, N.J.

Have you ever seen this blonde with the touch of red in her hair? Hattie has been with the class since it started as freshmen. She is a member of the Girl Reserves, where she served for two years. She also sang in the Girls' Glee Club, for one year. She always has a wide, cheery smile ready for anyone who greets her. But, once in a while, she comes to school looking quite worn out, which is probably from doing her homework the night before. Last, but not least, you should see her blush!

As a member of the class, Nick has done many things to make it successful. He played right end on the football team and you should have seen him make a certain tackle in his last Montclair game. He is a very good gymnast, too, as Mr. Grill can probably testify. In fact, he wants to take up acrobatic work after he graduates. A member of the Student Council in his first three years in the class, Nick is quite a banker, too, and held that office in freshman and sophomore years. Nick has many friends, and is admired by everyone.

LOUISE KIERNAN

Weezie is one of the more active members of the class. Do you ever admire her good-looking clothes, and notice how well they always fit? We'll let you in on a secret. She makes them all herself. Besides liking to sew, Louise is a tennis enthusiast, and plays very well. She was on the Junior Gym Team for one year, an usher at the very successful Senior Play, and a valued member and treasurer of the Girl Reserves. She sang in the Girls' Glee Club for two years. Louise is somewhat the artist at cooking, so Merle Ball says.

KATHLEEN M. KENNY

Kay is the girl with the curly mop of red hair. She is not very well known for she has been a student of Bloomfield High School for only one year. She came from the school of Immaculate Conception in Montclair which she says is a swell school where everyone is acquainted with everyone else. That is easily believed, for Kay is not a person with whom it's hard to become acquainted. She especially likes roller skating and is fond of driving and swimming. She claims that Problems in American Democracy is her favorite subject.

EUGENE LaCOMBEV

Gene "Lightnin" LaCombe, is another one of those three and one-half year students. He is always on the go. He belonged to the German Club and the Student Council at the high school in Maplewood and he was also a member of the baseball team there. At Bloomfield High he reported sports for the Student Prints. Gene certainly knows his sports thoroughly. If he keeps up the good work, he'll be another Grantland Rice. Gene never finds time for women so he has become a confirmed bachelor. He plans to attend Dartmouth.

She has been a member of the Sphinx Society for two years, and the French Club for one. She was on the literary staff of the Annual Board. Adele is very much absorbed in music and spends most of her time at the piano or studying harmony. The Vivo Club is one of her chief interests. In addition to music, her hobbies are tennis and reading. She will prepare at Montclair College to be a teacher of high school mathematics.

Here is the "little" member of the firm of "Small and Little." He is guaranteed to be mistaken for Small by all his teachers. Chemistry holds his interest, and not content to dabble with chemicals in school, he has fitted up a chemical laboratory in his garage. Gordon is a farmer from Cedar Grove, and lives across the fields from the Overbrook Sanatorium for the Mentally Defective. He has not yet been affected by its presence. Bloomfield College will be his "loafing grounds" next year. Then he intends to transfer to Rutgers University. He will be a chemist.

Frank is one of the class' he-men, who does not bother with girls. He is a quiet fellow, and will not die of overstudy. He has a small circle of friends, but the friends he has, he will keep. They all admire him for his steadiness, and the wide-mouthed grin with which he greets them. Frank is not going to college, and the class is in the dark as to his future, but you may be sure he will get along. The chances seem to be that Frank will be a jolly bachelor, but one can never tell.

VIRGINIA VALENTINE LAWRENCE

Virginia is one who is quiet, but outstanding in her own way. You'd probably notice her willingness to work, for she has an energy which seems tireless. Her interests lie along the line of music. She plays both the piano and the saxophone well. She was a member of the Band—and her uniform was very becoming! Virginia plans to study social service work either through Columbia University or a Newark institution. Her ability in P. D. class shows her talents in this direction. With her abilities and industry she's sure to succeed.

JAMES F. MARCHIONE

Ah, smooth dancer, good looks, no wonder, he's popular with the class. He used to flirt with a certain big blonde in Miss Williams' 12B English Class. To him goes the honor (?) of suggesting the goofiest title and theme for the Annual. He couldn't even spell some of the words. He intends to become an M.D. after he graduates, and he is well along in the field, because he has worked in a drug store ever since he has been in high school. Some soda-jerker, and you should taste his chocolate malt!

LAURA B. LUCKETT

Because of outside interests, Laura has taken little part in the activities of Bloomfield High School. She is a movie enthusiast and has long been an eager and avid reader. She had ambitions of becoming an author; however she is not sure about that now. She has been a commercial student for all four years. Laura, although very quiet, has a fascinating personality, carefree and gay, or without a moment's notice, extremely blue. She likes people, particularly children, and is inclined to idolize her friends. Muriel Doremus is one of Laura's most intimate pals.

MARGARET LUX

Marge is a dancing enthusiast. Have you ever seen her? She is really good at it. She also enjoys sports of any sort—swimming, tennis, and skating among them. She has a unique haircomb and certainly knows how to keep it so. Marge is also a good commercial student and has a determination to succeed as someone's stenog. Her favorite subjects are typing and shorthand. She was a member of the Spanish and Commercial Clubs for a year each and sang her way through a half year in the Girls' Glee Club.

PETER MANETTOV

Peter is one of those extraordinary three year students. He attended Bloomfield High School two and a half years, coming from Abraham Lincoln High School in Brooklyn, New York. He is a proficient performer on the violin and served as concert master of the high school Orchestra for two years. Pete has played at many school affairs including the freshman party and the Hi-Y "Varieries." He had the honor of being one of the two representatives of Bloomfield High School in the New Jersey All-State High School Symphony Orchestra at Atlantic City in October, 1932. Perhaps, some day he will be a concert artist.

Bessie likes to read, draw, skate, dance, and collect pictures which she keeps in a scrapbook. She has aspirations to being a nurse, and after graduation, will probably train at the Bellevue Hospital in New York.

JOHN McCORMICK

He is exactly like his prototype, this John McCormick. He is Irish, has freckles, red hair, and an Irish sense of humor. The only thing he can't do is sing. As yet he remains among the women-haters, but he is sure to fall some day, because there are not many bachelors as nice looking as he. Every Saturday he goes out with Bob Oston to play golf, and are they good! He lives up in Brookdale, where all the farms and model homes are, rides on one of those bump-wagons (school buses) where he picks up all this gossip about girls, though, some day he will fall, and some little girl with red hair and freckles will keep house for him.

Meyer is one of the best students in the class. He is graduating in three years, having entered high school with the class of June 1934. Meyer's chief interest is in music, and he was chosen the best musician in the class. He played in the All-State Orchestra in 1932 and is first violinist in the Bloomfield Symphony. He was in the high school Orchestra for three years and was chosen vice-president for his last year. As a senior Meyer joined the Chemistry Club and became a reporter for the Student Prints. He was also a literary editor for the Annual.

BEATRICE FRANCES MARSH

Bea, just one-half of that famous dance team, the "The Marsh Sisters", was voted the best dancer in the class. She is an accomplished performer and has done tap dancing for the Freshman Party, the Hi-Y Shows, Gym Exhibitions, and was dancing instructor for the musical comedy, "Ship Ahoy". Bea is always a good sport and has been active in school. She was a member of the Girls' Gym Team for two years, and was a bookkeeper for the bank. Bea plans to continue dancing in New York.

JEAN MARTHIS

Jean came to Bloomfield from Ohio and has been here only three years. In that time she has taken part in many school activities. She was president of the Girl Reserves for one of her three years of membership, a member of the Chemistry Club Council, belonged to the Sphinx Club for two years, and was on the Annual Staff. During the rehearsals and staging of "Chost Train", Jean was always to be found backstage, presumably playing the important role of prompter, but perhaps the chief electrician had something to do with it.

HAROLD M. MIANO

Happy was voted the best clock watcher of the whole class. Happy is really a good specimen of a man whose build prevents him from being overlooked. Probably his secret is "keep away from women." He is a great woman-hater. Happy is quite an athlete. He has played four years of varsity baseba!! and was captain of the team in his last year. He was a member of the State Championship team, third base being his position. He led the team in batting that year. Happy is very fond of hunting.

MARY-ESTHER MARTHIS

Petite Mary-Esther has a captivating smile which she used to great advantage in mesmerizing the football captain of 1932. Mary was a mem-ber of the Girl Reserves for four years, the Chemistry Club for a term and the Sphinx Society for two years. Athletically inclined, Mary displayed her prowess on the Senior Gym Team for two years and served as girl representative of the A. A. for one year. During two and a half years of vigorous cheer-leading she gained many friends by her earnestness and enthusiasm. Mary-Esther will enter Bellevue Hospital in New York City, as a student nurse.

Loo PAUL MORRIS

The Spic and Span is not a hangout for Paul; he works there. It must be a nice job to be with your school friends all night (and all morning. sometimes). A faster man, no one would want. Once in a while he comes to school, and sometimes he gets to school on time. Nevertheless, he is graduating in the customary number of years. Paul has blond hair which, although it looks as if it had been combed at one time, is always hanging down over one eye, but a little thing like that will not stop him.

ALFRED H. MILDON

Al entered ouah deah old mill in May 1930, transferring from Washington Academy, Princess Anne, Maryland, at the beginning of his sophomore year. He has attended several schools, four to be exact, but says he likes Bloomfield High best. The boy seems to have the makings of a diplomat in him. Al is sixteen years old and—quote "I don't smoke, hate women and enjoy listening to lectures." Ah-h another woman hater! Well—the harder they hate the worse they are when they do weaken. To get serious once more, Alfred intends to enter college in the Katherine is another three and a half year student. Kay is a good sport and very active in all sorts of activities. She was a member of the Girl Reserves for two years, Chemistry Club one year, and she belonged to the Sphinx Society for two years. Kay is very fond of athletics and belonged to the Girls' Baseball and Basketball teams, besides being a member of the Girls' Gym Team for one year. Kay was on the Annual Committee. She understudied the role of "Miss Bourne" in the Senior Play. She plans to be a Chiropractor.

O. RICHARD NAGY

Dick is a member of that vast horde which has completed high school in the remarkable time of three and a half years. He was a member of the German Club for two and a half years and president in his last half year. Dick is interested in athletics, especially basketball and track. He, together with Charles Shoudy and George Jernstedt, all able orators, is a recipient of that fame which comes to people in the lime-light. Richard intends to become a mathematics teacher and next year will attend the State Teachers' College at Montclair.

Laurework, Ellen Edge MARGARET J. NELSON

Marge, that shy young lady seen mostly in the company of Muriel Doremus, likes to be called anything but Maggie. In gym she was a part of that famous horseshoe team including Doremus, Cook and Shindle. Marge likes to read, in fact reads everything except love stories. Tennis is her favorite hobby. Any time during the summer months Marge may be seen playing tennis on the court in her back yard. Although she has been busy with activities outside the realm of her school life, Marge has found time to belong to the Sphinx and German Clubs. She might go in training to become a nurse.

ALICE ELIZABETH MORELAND

Al is a reserved young woman who carries on work mostly outside the realm of school life. She is engaged at present with the Young People's Society of Christian Missionary Alliance and is secretary of the organization. She has, however, been a member of the Commercial Club for three years. Alice will probably soon be in the employ of a business man, lucky to obtain a commercial student so engrossed in her line of work. Al has a pet saying, namely "Jinx." Her other half is Helen Jacober. The nick-name Al might be investigated. There's a reason.

MONROE H. MUSER

Muser is a very common place chap who hasn't any violent seelings about anything except hunting. It seems that two years ago last December, Muser, at considerable expense to his father, went up to Canada supposedly moose hunting. Taking his father's Springfield and ten boxes of cartridges he set out for the wilds of Quebec. Two weeks later the intrepid hunter returned with one bad cold, one pain in the neck, one jack rabbit and four hundred and eighty unusued cartridges. All kidding aside, Muser likes chemistry and intends to specialize in it this fall.

Sarah Laurence
JEAN W. OAKES

Jeanie is one of those girls who seem to make a success of everything they start. And it is not because of her pretty blonde hair either. She was placed on the Senior Gym Team in her freshman year, an honor not many girls achieve, and has been an active member for four years. Jeanie is also talented in music. In September she is planning to enter Sarah Lawrence College to study for her degree in music. Girl Reserves, French Club, Latin Club, and Home Economics have also claimed much of Jean's time and interest during the past four years.

FREDERIC OGDENV

Doc's one weakness seems to be that he can't resist taking all the picture cards and aces out of the deck during a supposedly square game. He put quite a bit of time and effort assisting in the construction of the scenery for "Ship Ahoy" which, as you probably know, was the most successful show ever produced by the student body. Doc has been a home room representative for the Student Council since his sophomore year and was a member of the Glee Club during his sophomore and junior years.

HERMAN L. OFFSCHANKA

Herm is that tall good-natured fellow who played center on the basketball team. He was on the Bloomfield High School basketball squad during his sophomore, junior, and senior years, and, in his last year, he made the varsity. He was one of the team's high scorers for the 1932-1933 season, and his foul-shooting was one of the sensation of the year. Herm also plays on the Frontenac basketball team, a local amateur club. As a means of training for these athletics Herm works on an ice wagon every day after school.

CHARLOTTE K. O'MARA

Charlotte has been one of the most active and popular girls in the class. In her spare time Girl Reserves, Commercial Club, Dramatic Club, and Glee Club have claimed Charlotte's interest and attention. She was also an active member of the Home Economics Club for three years and treasurer in her third year. Athletics have not been neglected in Charlotte's accomplishments. She has played on the baseball and basketball teams. Dancing and a certain lad at St. Benidict's seem to be Charlotte's hobbies, and next September she plans to study costume designing at Newark Art School.

ROBERT A. OSTON

Bob hails from Brookdale. He is among the quieter ranks of the class. Although well-prepared and willing to recite in classes, he is somewhat reluctant in speech elsewhere—especially among girls. But he likes girls —the homelike preferred, it is said. Music is among Robert's hobbies. He has been a valued member of both the Orchestra and the Boys' Glee Club. His other hobby is golf, at which he has won four trophies. Robert will go to Hampton University where he plans to study physical education. Here are hearty wishes for your success, Robert!

BETTY PERRINE

Perry besides being one of the best athletes of the class is a three and a half year student. She was a star of the first magnitude on the Girls' Gym Team, and captain of the Girls' Baseball Team. Perry was secretary of the Student Council for one term, and the girl representative of the A. A. for one year. In addition, she was associated with the Girl Reserves, Latin, Mathematics, and English Clubs. Perry is planning to enter Skidmore next fall where she expects to take up secretarial work.

FRANCES E. PERPENTE

Fran is a most versatile person. Art and literature are her most developed accomplishments. In her junior year she won second place in the short story division of the "Scholastic" Contest. Her poetic talents are familiar to many. Frances has belonged to the Girl Reserves, Chemistry and Latin Clubs, acting, for one year, as secretary of the latter. During three years' service on the Student Prints staff, she made herself invaluable in make-up procedure. "Ghost Train" owed much of its success to her efforts as publicity manager. She was associate editor of the Annual. Frances will probably go to Rollins College.

THOMAS N. OSTON

Well, folks, here is the younger brother of Robert Oston, and he is quite talkative. Tom is a kidder and likes to crack jokes, so beware. His hobbies are golf and baseball, especially golf. Tommy won a club championship golfing, besides having entered many important tournaments. No doubt, Tom will be a great golfer some day. He didn't spend his time on school activities because of this hobby. Although he tried to start a golf team in school he was unsuccess-

ISABEL GRAY REDFEARN

If you're looking for a quiet, goodnatured girl, find Isabel. Always smiling, always ready to help—that's Isabel. You should see her in the chemistry laboratory. Serene, un-ruffled—what are a pile of test tubes and a galaxy of acid bottles to her? Well, yes, trouble but no bother. She's a good salesman, too. She could make almost anyone buy a Student Prints. She has been a member of the Girl Reserves for two years, and an enthusiastic member of the French Club. Isabel is a Brookdale student and seldom to be seen without Barbara French.

CHARLES E. PETERSEN V

Pete is one of these radio boys who broadcast and receive by short waves. First a general C. Q., then he talks with some other fellow whom he may or may not know. But don't get excited, he has a license. Besides radio, Pete was the drum major of the Band, spinning the baton, and dropping it at certain inopportune times, but, nevertheless he is good. His flame is a little girl named Dot with whom he goes to many dances. Cedar Grove must be a familiar place to him, for he used to live there, but now he lives in Halcyon Park, that suburban place for suburban people. He keeps his radio in the cellar. orking for plumber CHRISTOPHER PENTECOSTE V

Chris is one of the faithful supporters of the four day school week. His favorite rest days are either Wednesday or Friday. He is not so particular which one it happens to be just as long as the week averages no more than four days. While in high school Chris played football for two years. Despite his unusual fondness for the fabled halls of Bloomfield High School he really hates to graduate because he will have to work harder looking for a position. Chris intends to devote much of his future time and money to the welfare of school banks.

Histinghouse GRACE RANDOLPHY to study later

Sleepy came from Connecticut and has been attending Bloomfield High School two years. One of her two hobbies was attempting to "twinkle" during chemistry class. The other one? Oh, yes—blondes. Not just any old blonde, either! Sleepy was on the advertising staff of the Student Prints for a year, and in the Girls' Glee Club half a year. She was also a member of the Chemistry Club. For positively no reason at all, she is often hailed as "Gracie Allen". As a rule, Grace could be seen around school with either Norma VonFell or Alice Reynolds.

HARRY PHELPSV

Harry is a happy-go-lucky type of fellow who always has a smile and a good word for everyone. He was on the track squad for two years and played an important position on the basketball team for three years. Besides being engaged in sports Easy has also taken active parts in other school functions. He belonged to the Chemistry Club for one year and was a sports editor on the Annual Board, a position for which he was well fitted. After he is through with his school career, he is going to a flying school.

ALICE WALLACE REYNOLDS

Although Alice came to Bloomfield as late as her senior year, she did not take long to get acquainted and join many of the school activities. In addition to sharing the character of "Elsie" with Eleanor Fisher in "Ghost Train" and being on the literary staff of the Annual, she has devoted much of her time to the Glee Club and to the duties of feature and rewrite editor on the Student Prints staff. Her hobbies include music and writing humorous verses. Her enthusiasm for travel is backed by wide experience. Alice means to attend N. J. C.

Joster Sud &

Dotty is one of the most active girls in the class. She is always willing and ready as she showed by her work in the Senior Play. She was on the committee for the arrangement of the Bloomfield High School Hand Book, and was secretary of the Student Council for one year. Dotty is very much interested in dramatics and would like to continue them after leaving school. Perhaps one could say that driving her Whippet and walking with a certain young man are her other pet hobbies, for wherever you see Dotty you see either one of them.

Yes, folks, Miss Hough's one and only absentee tormentor. Mike quite a kidder and full of fun. His favorite pastime is cutting classes. He is also a neat dresser. Mike is a hard worker, that is after school hours. Gym is his favorite hobby. He also likes basketball and baseball very much. Mike plans to study medicine. Let's hope he's a success. Although he has had tough breaks during his High School career one would never guess it from his carefree manner. A a member of th "Bi-Weekly Booster" Mike has shown his interest in class projects.

ADA ANN SCERRATO

Here's a very quick girl, a pretty brunette. Apparently Ada really studies, for she can be seen quite regularly carrying an armful of books as she boards the well-known hack to that small hamlet in the hills—Cedar Grove. Ada's hobbies are athletics, she prefers swimming. She has been on the Senior Gym Team for three and a half years and in the Commercial Club half a year. Ada is taking the commercial course in school, but her plans for the future are as yet undecided. Wouldn't she make a grand secretary for some blond young giant?

HARRY G. QUINN

Meet Harry Quinn, stern believer in non-recognition of Soviet Russia and debater par excellence. He attended Montclair Academy for one year before coming here. The position of class treasurer was his during his sophomore A term. The ladies know him as a very neat dresser, a graceful dancer and a wonderful Romeo. Belleville Avenue is reputed to be his favorite walking and hunting grounds. Next year he will attend either Dana College, Newark, or the Business Administration School of New York University. His ambition is to be a big business man.

ROBERT L. RALSTON

In Bob we have another recruit for Alabama University. If old man depression gets killed off before September, Ralston will attend this fall. Otherwise he will work for a while. Wish him luck folks, he'll need it. Bob is interested in all kinds of sports especially golf, football and swimming. He likes golf best of all and can tell amusing tales of things that have happened on the course. Bob also had a healthy interest in dramatics and had a part in the play "Colonel George."

EDITH CLAIRE SCHMIDT

Edith was formerly a student of West Side High in Newark, and quite emphatically declares that Bloomfield is much to be preferred. Edie, as she is generally known, has been on the staff of the Student Prints as an agent for three and a half years. She has taken piano lessons for three years and, like many others, who do play, insists she can't play. Edith also likes sports, preferably swimming. Around school, she is seen with Eleanor McCurdy more than any one

LEONARD ELTON REPSHER

Entered deah old Bloomfield High School back in the golden age in '29 at which time he joined the school Orchestra and for a year annoyed Miss Albinson terribly with his inimitable interpretations of orchestral music. In his sophomore year he joined the Band and has been connected with that organization ever since. In the fall of '32 Leonard joined the Chemistry Club and has been an active and interested member. He has two hobbies, chemistry and swimming, and spends most of his spare time during lunch periods discussing swimming records, champions etc

(part-time) Clerthical Store

Ruth is not very well known here. She came from Dickinson High School two years ago but claims she likes Bloomfield better. Ruth is that quiet, winsome lass with the nice smile. She is liked tremendously. She likes shorthand best for studying, and sports for recreation. She swims, dances, and plays the piano. Ruth hopes to be a secretary but hasn't completed her plans. She is thought shy but maybe that's because of the reticence, her quiet way of speaking and her eager grin. By the way, have you ever played horseshoes with her in the gym?

Mestinghous HARRIET A. SEELIG

Every morning Harry comes up to school in a great big car—yes, it's the Brookdale bus. She is one of those people who just cannot resist playing with fire. What will you do, Harry, when you won't be able to run up to Mr. Walrath to have your hand taken care of? It is not generally known that Harry plays the violin and that she appeared in various recitals. Edith Jagger and Marie Santoro number among Harriet's closest friends. Harry belonged to the Home Economics Club and helped the class in the senior candy sale.

WILLIAM REINHARDT

Introducing to you one of those strong silent he-men that haunt the halls, hailing from the wide open spaces of Cedar Grove. He belongs to the National Guard 102nd Cavalry, Troup B and he is certainly a good looking man in uniform. He works for the Great A & P Company, and when he is not working you may find him fishing or milking cows. This youth is the proud possessor of a Model A Ford which can do 28 miles on a gallon of gas. He also smokes a pipe.

Evie is a dark-haired quiet girl. She is quite a pal of Kathleen for they both hail from the same place. Evelyn came from the Catholic school of the Immaculate Conception in Montclair and for only one year, has been a student of Bloomfield High School. Evelyn is especially fond of drawing and swimming. As for studying, she likes English. Evelyn claims to like Bloomfield High during the short time she has been here. She will probably enter a business course in September, after the completion of high school.

ROBERT D. RICHARDSON V

Doc was a member of the Chemistry Club and, in his junior A and senior years, a member of the Mathematics Club. He played the trombone in both the Band and the Orchestra, and served the Orchestra for one year as librarian. He was the home room representative of the Red Cross in his junior and senior years. Doc was a member of the track squad for one year. His scholarship in all subjects has earned him the dignity attached to his nickname. Doc is a master of problems which take up the space of three black-boards. He intends to be an engineer.

ROBERT ALLAN ROSEVEAR

Rosey is the editor of the Annual. He is very much interested in journalism, and has been on the Student Prints staff for four years, serving in different positions, and when a senior B, as editor. For two years a member of the Hi-Y, Bob was elected vice-president in his last half year. In his junior year he was treasurer of the Latin Club and when a senior he joined the Chemistry Club. Music has taken much of Bob's time, for since his sophomore year he has been a member of both the Band and Orchestra. He was also chairman of the committee in charge of the Washington trip.

BEATRICE L. SHUKEN

All through school Bea has been happy-go-lucky and afraid of nothing. She has been a member of the Chemistry and Dramatic Clubs for one half-year and a year, respectively. During her senior A term she served as head typist on the Student Prints staff. Bea's interests have been musical and acquatic. Four years in the Glee Club are evidence of the former, she was librarian of this organization in her sophomore year. As for the water, she spends much of her time at the Y and holds a Senior Life-Saver's badge.

HARRY T. RUBINSTEIN

Harry is another of those very strange people, the three year students. He belonged to the Mathematics Club in his senior year and played the banjo in the high school Orchestra in his freshman and sophomore years. He is active in Scout circles and has himself attained the rank of Eagle Scout. Harry has taken part in many intramural sports, especially basketball. His greatest interest lies in mathematics and he is looking forward to entering the State Teacher's College at Montclair. Perhaps some day he will torture his classmates descendants in a geometry class at dear old Alma Mater.

LAURA E. SPAETH

Laura ranks among the better known girls of our class. Probably most of you saw her recently in the movie, "Romance of Bloomfield"—yes, quite a celebrity. Laura is a three and one half year student and was secretary of her class for two years. She has been especially interested in extra-curricular activities, and was an active member of the Girl Reserves, the Chemistry Club and the Dramatic Club each for one year. She was a member of the Annual Committee and staff, and let's not forget her work on the Junior Gym team for three years.

JEAN SMITH Monte

This lassie, who has been in Scotland twice, is one of the three insep-arables, Jean, Margaret and Marian.

She is another of the many students who are graduating in three and one half years. Although Jean has carried six subjects since her sophomore year, she has had high marks. Jean is interested in landscaping and would like to become a landscape gardener.

Among her other interests are rollerskating and swimming. Jean belonged to the French, German, Math, Latin, Home Economics, and Girl Reserves Clubs. She expects to enter Miss Whitman's School in the fall.

Walt is the type of fellow who gets up in the morning about 7:45 a. m. and gets to school at 8:15 a. m. His favorite pastime is sleep. However this doesn't mean that Walt is lazy, he is just the opposite. One can always depend on him to help in some class function. During his school career he was a member of the Sphinx Society for one year. For two years he was a member of the Boys' Glee Club. In the 1933 school year the Aviation Club was formed in Bloomfield High School and Walt was immediately elected vice president.

RUTH SPITZ

Ruth is a quiet withdrawing soul, but can assert herself upon occasion! She is a commercial student and likes it enormously. Her favorite subject is stenography. Ruth has been a member of the Spanish Club. Ruth's hobbies include singing, reading and playing the piano. She has been a member of the Glee Club for two and one half years. She plans to go to a secretarial school in September, Pace & Pace, in New York City. And in her spare time—she gets lots of fun from dancing.

KENNETH E. SCHLEICHER

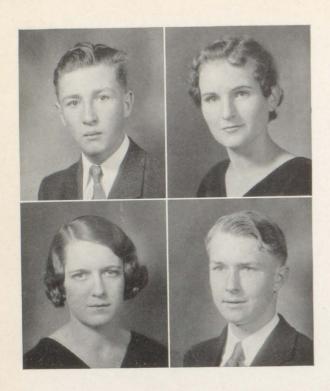

Ken used to play a trumpet in the Band and Orchestra but had to quit because he wore out the valve actions of four trumpets in two years. Schleicher has a peculiar habit of depressing the valves with that part of his finger between the first and second joints. According to Professor Butts, this causes a terrific side thrust on the cylinder walls, resulting in poor compression, blow by and excessive oil consumption. Ken could not keep up with the expense of buying new trumpets so he had to resign and it was with great regret that his resignation was accepted.

Sidney is another of those ambitious people who have completed their high school training in three and a half years. He was a member of the French Club in his junior year. In his sophomore year he was elected to the Student Council. Here he served on various committees. He also served his regular class, that is, the class of February '34 on the following: Freshman Party Committee, dance committee, and candy sale. Sidney is famous for his brilliant talks in Mr. Ross' P. D. class. Why, it is even said that he could harangue for hours on nothing at all.

DORIS E. SUTHERLAN

Yes, she's that calm, cool blonde warf, M.

whom you've noticed. Dot cannot be said to exactly love the scholastic curriculum of the school. She finds that the joy of Bloomfield High School lies largely in sports. So you shouldn't be surprised to find she was a member of the Girl Reserves and has served on the advertising staff of the Student Prints. By the way, you should see the buying power she inspired in the lads and lassies while she served on the candy sale committee!

IRVING E. SLAUER V

Slauer came to Bloomfield from Dickinson High School in Jersey City, three years ago. In his first year at Bloomfield High School he joined the Glee Club and in his second year became a member of the German Club. Irving is very fond of chemistry. He constructed an electric arc lamp for the chemical laboratory and it is even rumored that he has a small laboratory of his own at horne. Irving is fond of all athletics and aithough he hasn't been on any of the high school teams, he was a member of several local athletic clubs.

LORETTA MARTHA TAYLOR

Here is a girl who is one of a pair of twins, not real twins, of course, but friend twins. "Wherever Loretta is seen there Mary is seen also" reminding one of the old sayings. When you want to find Loretta look for Mary Kapschue, she's sure to be within calling distance of her. Loretta's enthusiasms in the class and in high school generally have been many. She has taken an active interest in the Sphinx and Commercial Clubs and worked on the Girls' Gym Team. After graduation Loretta is planning to take up secretarial work.

Histinghouse NORMA J. TABERNER

Whenever athletics is spoken of you are certain to hear Norma's name mentioned for she excels in that more than any member of the Girls' Gym Team. Although most of her work is carried on outside the realm of her school-life nevertheless Norma is well known and liked for her lovely smile and charming ways. Her other half is Jennette Jacobs. Norma rarely comes to school earlier than ten after eight. What can it be that occupies so much of her time outside of school, so early in the morning?

CHARLES A. SHOUDY V

Chig is that tall, blond member of the class, and boy, what a high-hurdler! As secretary-treasurer of the Chemistry Club, he played his dual role in an easy, off-hand manner. He is also a member of the Mathematics Club. As a stage-hand for the Senior Play, he was heard but not seen as the train came in. Well, at least Chig helped. But stage handing is not his only shining point, as he served on the Student Prints staff in his freshman, sophomore, and junior years, and on the poster staff.

MARTHA-JANE THOMAS

Here is one of Bloomfield High School's most popular girls. Marty's amazing number of activities, with the offices she has held, has included two years in the Girl Reserves, one year in the Chemistry Club, treasurer for one of her two years in the Sphinx Club, secretary for one of her two years in the Student Council, vice president for one of her four years in the Clee Club, advertising manager one year and business manager one year on the Student Prints, the part of "Miss Bourne" in the Senior Play and art editor of the Annual. Incidentally she's president of the Bloomfield Junior Woman's Club.

20 Rove St. HARRY SMITH

Smitty is graduating in three and a half years. When he was a freshman and still a member of the class of February, he was on the dance committee and on the committee in charge of the freshman party. In his second semester in high school he joined the English Club. He faithfully served the Student Prints in his second and third years as a home room collector. Harry was elected home room representative on the Student Council for his sophomore and junior years. As a means of identification he is referred to as Mr. Smythe, much to his disgust.

Looking for work

The name of this fellow is not a fitting one for he is rather tall. He is no relation to Gordon Little either. Murray is very well liked by his classmates and put the shot on the track squad. Have you ever seen him driving his Chevrolet? Anyone who has ridden with him will tell you that Murray is a very careful driver. His ambition is to become a C. P. A. and he intends to continue his education along that line at New York University, starting in the fall.

MARIAN F. TAYLOR

Though Marian has entered comparatively few school activities, it is significant that she has done everything thoroughly and well, both in school and outside. Her musical talents were displayed during her four years' service as violinist in the Orchestra. During the ticket drive for "Ghost Train", Marian's team was victorious. Outside of school she is an active member of the 4-H Club. She has to her credit a prize in millinery and the honor of having been one of four New Jersey representatives at the National 4-H Conference in Washington.

HUGH M. SMITH
RUTH

Hugh Smith was very quiet around school which fitted him perfectly for his favorite pastime of fishing. He did not enter into extra-curicular activities but had outside interests. In the winter he spends his time skating and in the summer he is very fond of swimming. Hugh, since he is of Scotch decent, is the only one who can properly read Burns' poetry in Miss Hough's English class. Hugh is one of the three Smith's in the class, although he is not related to the other two. He is known to his friends as Smitty.

Hoolworth EMMA VOGT

Emma is another of the prospective secretaries who, on account of her interest in her line of work, will surely make a real success. Em, who divided her time equally each morning between Miss Smith's home room and her own, was always searching for someone who had time to dictate her shorthand to her. She is a good sport; and though her extra-curricular work was not very extensive, she is well liked by her classmates. Em has shown herself to be a good athlete, for she is a member of the Girls' Gym Team.

DUTU VAN DESS

RUTH VAN DESSEL

Ruthie is one of the most brilliant girls in the class, and does she know her Latin,—she's had four years of it. The strange part of it is that Ruthie always thinks she is going to fail when really she never gets anything lower than ninety. There's a lot of executive ability wrapped up in Ruthie too, for she's been president of the French Club and vice president of the Latin Club. The business world will claim Ruth's attention when she leaves school. She's going to take a Business Administration course somewhere, but she has not yet chosen the place.

His hobbies are swimming, Scouting, and eating. He plans to attend Montclair State Teacher's College and become a professor of sciences. Beware of your job, Mr. Walrath!

Pretty but dumb does not apply to Betty, for not only did she take five subjects but she also made good marks in them. Being a good athlete, she was a member of the Girls' Gym Team and has participated in exhibitions given by it. Although Betty is a commercial student, she is interested in designing and hopes to study couturiers work at Columbia University. She has also a pleasant voice, and is a member of the Glee Club.

BREWSTER A. SPENCER

Spence is one of the long, narrow persons seen around the school. He is a fine fellow and has many friends. He is another one of the quieter students but perhaps not as silent as some others, for during the last year or two he has changed quite a bit. Oh, these seniors! If he is not able to secure some kind of a position when he leaves Bloomfield High School he is going to Vocational School. There he will prepare to be an aviation mechanic. His greatest interests are in aviation, boating, cycling and travel.

MANUEL M. STIER

Manny is a three and one half year student. He was on the Student Prints staff as a reporter in his sophomore year. He is interested also in track, and was assistant manager of the track team in the 1931 and 1932 seasons. A loyal rooter for all Bloomfield High School athletic teams, he's there whether the game is at home or away. In his position of assistant advertising manager, he played an important part in the success of the Senior Play, "Ghost Train". Manny isn't very big, but he makes an awful lot of noise.

Mestinghouse maner

Norma is the "It" girl of Bloomfield High School—red hair, temperament and all. No doubt Ward can testify to all that. Norma can be heard as well as seen, for she has been a member of the Girls' Glee Club. She has also been active in the German Club. In trig class Clara Bow watched the clock in hope that the time would pass rapidly and that she would not have to recite. Once, however, the time failed to pass rapidly enough and Norma had to recite, much to her sorrow and misfortune. Norma likes dancing very much.

Wheaton College DAVID G. STONE

Resolving to be remembered in Bloomfield High School, Divvy colaborated with the Hitlerites in their ravages on Miss Hough's English classes. Yet he could be conscientious about his work for he was voted the best boy student and is a three and a half year student. He is one of the few who has played five years with the Band. Three years and a half as a cornetist in the Orchestra, one year as a Chemistry clubber and service as a literary editor on the Annual Board helped to occupy his time. He will add to his laurels at Wheaton College where he will work for an A.B.

Schn & Tink

Whimsical, care-free, quiet, smiling, Adele has a charming personality quite in keeping with her small stature. She was a member of the Girls' Glee Club for three years. In her sophomore year she was librarian of this organization, and in her senior year she was treasurer. Adele is fond of art work. Her hobbies include doing pastel drawings and reading. After graduation she is considering going to Columbia for training in technical merchandising and advertising, but again her whimsical uncertainty appears; she is not sure what she will do. The girls will remember her for her attractive clothes.

Jaanta Coley

He is one of the most popular fellows in the class, this Brad Stone. He is a tall, dark-haired fellow, pals around with Bob Clark, and goes places with a girl named Ruth. You should have read his triolet on "Cutting School", which he wrote in Miss Smith's English Class. When he was a freshman, he was on the party committee. He says that he ran as fast as he could for two years on the track team and got nowhere. After he graduates he is going to Wheaton College to continue his education. He played in the Band and Orchestra when he was a freshman. His folks have a summer home in Craigville, where he spends his summers.

FRANKLIN A. STONE JR.

Franklin is the twin brother of David and the cousin of Bradford, all three bearing the cognomen Stone. Franklin and David are the only twins in the class while they, with Brad are the only three branches of one family tree in the class. Fricky is completing his four years high school course in three and a half years. The chemistry club is his sole social attachment. Franklin played the trumpet in both the high school Band and Orchestra. He is interested in basketball and baseball. Next year he will attend Wheaton College, Illinois.

Warston Cally

KENNETH WILLIAM TRIMMER

Before entering the noble, edifice of Bloomfield High School, Kenneth attended high school in East Orange. His great ambition in life is to be a general in the army and ride a horse. For this position he has been preparing himself during his summer vacations, at the Citizen's Military Training Camp at Plattsburg. He is also a member of the National Guard. This military education may enable him to be a commander of the "Bonus Army" or maybe a "Hunger March." Who knows? Some may pick a profession for their career but Kenneth chooses a military life.

FREDERICK WALDRON

To obtain information about Fred Waldron it was necessary to rouse him from deep slumber via the telephone. When he is disturbed Mr. Waldron wastes no words in expressing his indignation. He has wavy black hair and is quite good looking in a quiet unassuming way. Fred belonged to the Radio Club for one year. He has taken the general course in high school, but is at present undecided as to his future. His particular hobbies are tennis and golf. Most of his time he spends with Bob Ralston, his buddy.

HARRY TAYLOR, JR.

Harry was elected vice president of the Chemistry Club in his senior B term and automatically succeeded to the presidency when he became a senior A. In his sophomore A term he was elected to the Student Council, in his senior year became a member of the Mathematics Club, later successfully managed the advertising for the Senior Play and still later was an associate editor of the Annual. Although few know it, Harry is a Red Cross Senior Life Saver and also is the class printer. He and Betty Farrand were chosen as the "Romeo and Juliet" of the class.

MADELINE W. WANGNER

ac

Madcap is both popular and well known around school through her variety of activities and her efficiency. Madeline is a typist of no mean ability. She has served the Student Prints in this way, and did very well in her position as typist on the Annual Board. Her leisure hours were spent as a member of the Commercial Club, Dramatic Club and Home Economics Club for three years, and she was secretary in her last year as well. She was one of the attractive ushers for the Senior Play. Seeing Madeline's dimpling smile only serves to strengthen one's liking for her.

BERNARD ALVIN WELKIND

Bernard is much more familiar to his classmates as Besnard Bienamable. He took French with Miss Heartz, and that "handle" is his name, literally translated into French. He wrote it on the board everyday except Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and Miss Heartz laughed everytime she saw it. He played in the Band and was a reporter on the Student Prints staff, where he was known for his always ready wit, and, incidentally, many of the French classes often went into roars of laughter at his wise-cracks. Well, goodby, Besnard, and don't forget the Bienaimable.

VIRGINIA LEE WHITE

Virginia is another one of those good sports who prizes her vanity case very highly. Her hobbies are dancing, swimming, eating, and studying (studying boys.) Ginny also likes to play bridge. During her high school career she worked in a beauty parlor, which no doubt is the secret of her charm. Ginny is interested in music and was a member of the Girls' Glee Club for two years. She was one of the gay-strutting ushers at the Senior Play. Ginny plans to attend either Drake's or Catherine Gibbs Business School after her departure from Bloomfield High School. GERTRUDE V. WILLIAMS

She's just a little girl, but oh! what a big smile she has. Who is she? Gert, of course. The Dramatic Club was Gert's chief interest in high school and she has been an active member of the Girls' Gym Team. Dancing and reading are Gert's hobbies. She asserts that she loves really blood-curdling mysteries, and she's not afraid in the dark, either. The business world will claim Gert when she leaves high school, and with her smile none of her bosses will ever be safe.

ALBERT WILLIAMS

Vano:

Limey is one of those intelligent gasabos who manage to cram four year course into three. He's known far and wide for his impressionable wit, an example of which is the time he brought Miss Hough a shiny red apple as a peace offering. The Sphinx and Mathematics Clubs had him for a member for the last two years. Limey managed to get himself elected to the vice president's chair of the Sphinx Club. He was a Student Council representative for three years and was on the staff and in the cast of the Senior Play and a member of the Annual Board.

Vocational School Howark

LOUISE WOODRUFF

Louise is a new addition to the class, having come from Immaculate Conception High School in Montclair. She is sweet and blonde with an engaging smile. Her interests are varied—ranging from Chemistry and English in the study line, to swimming and dancing for a good time. There also seems to be something or someone from out of town that claims her attention. Louise has been a member of the French Club and is a good French student. She is one of those with a definite future in view, for she is going to St. Elizabeth's College in the fall.

WILLIAM L. WRIGHT

Bill is some wrestler! The track team will miss Bill's running next year, as this year he was excellent in the mile. But next spring, as yet, is a long time off. He has been a member of the Hi-Y for one and a half years, a member of the Chemistry Club for one year, and he belonged to the Radio Club. Incidentally, he is one of these bugs (radio bugs) who broadcast and receive by short wave. His future will probably run along these lines, because he is so far gone now, he can hardly help himself. He has the use of an old car, in which he runs around.

("Ladies' Dryden, Pope, Tennyson, and Nick Carter Society" is meeting. All seated around a large quilting frame. Miss Hough rolls in, a lawheel chair.)

Miss Hough—Well goils, how goes it? (Leans over quilt.)

Miss Hoffmire—Oh, just grand. And we're simply intrigued with these patches. There are so many old friends from the June '33 class who have patches here.

Miss Smith—Them was sure little devils. Look, here's Senator Crater's patch. Ken Schleicher, his page boy, brought it over. The Senator was busy with Muriel Doremus and Joseph Cwirko, the lobbyists.

Miss Gay—Speaking of lobbyists, have you heard Paul Morris' soapbox speeches lately. He's a fiery Red.

Miss Zinn—I hear that Beatrice Hanley is a Socialist agitator. Her only audience yesterday was a horse.

Miss Hough—I was hoarse once, but I used "Walrath's Own" and that cured me.

Miss Zinn—Sh. That reminds me. Mae Greenstein was hoarse last night on her radio program.

Miss Heartz—You can have your blues singers. I prefer the Opera. Have you heard Meyer Melnikoff's new one? Monroe Muser is Mephistopheles and John McCormick and George Freed have leading roles.

Miss Zinn—I did hear that Peter Manetto is leading the orchestra and Bea Marsh is a danseuse.

Miss Miller—You can have your uproar. I'll take the Follies. Hot cha! And say, I saw several old friends there. Julia Corbo and Hattie Kellett are in the chorus and don't look a day over twenty. Kathleen Kenny and Evelyn Shueholtz are ushers.

Miss Hoffmire—I hear that Rev. Charles Shoudy tried to have the show stopped but Bill Potts, the door man, threw him out.

Miss Seigle—Speaking of Potts, whatever happened to Dotty Rinker?

Miss Hoffmire—Oh she always wanted to be a dietician, but the nearest she came was being Mrs. Potts. (Telephone rings.)

Miss Shaul—I'll answer it. (Picks up phone.) Hello. Yes. Oh, its you, Rev. Ackerman. About 5:00? We'll be there. Goodby. (Hangs up. Turns to others.) It was Rev. Emerson Ackerman. He says that Virginia White of the W. C. T. U. and Grace Randolph, the evangelist, are going to raid Lu McCarthy's night club. I told him we'd help.

Miss Heartz—Yes, indeedy. Say, isn't that where Barbara French is a bar maid?

Miss Hoffmire—So they tell me, and Virginia Lawrence's orchestra is playing there too. Edith Schmidt is a dish-washer and Arn Gould is the promotor.

Miss Zinn—I've heard that Bill Berger's making a personal appearance there.

Miss Seigle—Not the great movie star!

Miss Zinn-The same, at least his press agent, Irving Slauer, said so.

Miss Heartz—If the W. C. T. U. doesn't shut up the place, Gene La-Combe and Jake Marchione will. It seems that Lu's been getting beer and pretzels from David and Franklin Stone, the great beer and pretzel barons and there's going to be trouble. (Door bell rings off stage.)

Miss Hough—That's the grocery man. Will you let him in, Millie?

Miss Zinn—Certainly, (Leaves)...

Miss Hough—I always get meats from Fornoff, Heckel and Daneski. Walt, Tom and Joe were all in the '33 class.

Miss Gay—Do you like John Franco's spaghetti?

Miss Miller—It's all right. I like Bob Ralston's cereal too, and Baldwin apples from Eleanor Baldwin's farm are good.

Miss Heartz—I hear that Mildred Bocchino has a cherry farm. I've often wondered what Maraschbocchino cherries were.

Miss Gay—Speaking of food. Did you know that Gert Williams and Adele Walker are making flap-jacks down at Child's, and that Ruth Spitz has charge of the chicken-roasting department?

Miss Hough—I almost forgot. Florence Harrington is giving a recipe over the air today. (Miss Heartz turns on radio.)

Voice from the speaker—You have just heard our daily recipe period sponsored by William Reinhardt and Jane Dye, undertakers, who's slogan is, "If you must, come to Reinhardt and Dye." Now a short resume of the programs to be presented this afternoon and evening. At 3:00—the Smith trio, Jean, Hugh, and Harry, will rend popular songs. 3:15—Misses Dorothy Kusler and Louise Kiernan, well known in political circles, will disgust, pardon me, discuss a woman in politics. O. Richard Nagy, famed spell-binder will assist. 3:30—Doyle Garland in fifteen minutes of hill-billy songs. 3:45—"Nuts to You," featuring Victor Grant. 4:00—Prof. George McQueeney will tell you how he shattered the electron. He will be introduced by Mr. Howard Dirlam, president of this station, 4:30—Bollenbach and Aranoff Inc., makers of hair dves and nail polishes, will present Madame VanDessel, famed astrologer. 5:00—Our weekly drama, "The Cracker-Barrel Murder Case", will be presented with Martha-Jane Thomas playing the part of Sophie. This program is sponsored by John Forsyth and John Forsyth Inc., makers of "Sulphuric acid Face Wash For Men," guaranteed to remove hair. At 6:00—the two favorites, Amos and Andrus, will perform, sponsored by Small and Little, makers of reducing salts. 6:15 will bring Helen Amerman who will psycho-analyze her listeners. At 6:30— Messrs William Wright and Robert Cornwell will tell you what is wrong with your radio. 7:30—a special broadcast from England, the speaker being Prime Minister, Albert Williams. 8:00—Fred Ogden, crooner, and at 8:15—Mme. Jean Oakes, concert pianist.

We now take you to the Ophanon Dance Marathon.

Miss Smith—Ooh. I listen to this every chance I get. I do hope Brad Stone and Margaret Lux win.

Voice from the radio—Here we are. Et cetera—(Continues to spout. Enter Miss Zinn hurriedly.)

Miss Zinn—Oh. There's an installment collector outside who's come for the radio. And it's Isabel Redfearn, of all people.

Miss Hough—My, my. I forgot the installments.

(Enter two moving men. They shut off radio and carry it out.)

Miss Hough—There it goes, but did you recognize the two movers?

Miss Smith—Yes. They were the two Kane's, Tom and Joe.

Speaking of Marathons, I hear Harry Quinn and Laura Spaeth are still in the running. (Door-bell rings again.) There goes the bell again. I'll go. (Exit.)

Miss Heartz—Here's Mr. and Mrs. Eppler's patch. She was Betty Doran, you know. They are a perfect pair.

Miss Seigle—Pair? That reminds me, Ruth Bingham is a farmerette out in Brookdale and I hear that Stella Glowacz is her efficiency manager.

Miss Miller—I was talking to Doris Sutherland at her delicatessen yesterday and she says Ella Halvorson is suing her fifth husband for divorce. (Telephone rings.)

Miss Shaul—(Answering.) Yes. You rang here, operator. You're sorry? What? My voice sounds familiar. I'm Louise Shaul. Yes. You're Margaret Donahue? No. And you say Edna Deyter has a desk next to you. Well. No. I can't talk now. Good by.

(Enter Miss Smith.)

Miss Smith—It was the Fuller Brush Man, and who do you think it was? Fred L. Black.

Miss Miller—No! Is that today's paper?

Miss Smith—Yes. And here's a handbill about the election. It says, "Vote for Vogt," and Emma Vogt's picture is on it.

Miss Heartz—That's the paper Bob Rosevear edits. Look at this headline, "Henry DeWeil, Famous Bullfighter, to Appear Here."

Miss Gay—They say Henry Kaiser's his manager.

Miss Hearts—Yeh. Look here, "Norma Taberner Explores Stratosphere."

Miss Miller—Speaking of exploring, Jimmy Curren's just returned from Africa with his latest film, "Curren Doings in Africa."

Miss Hoffmire—What does Frances Perpente say in her scandal column today?

Miss Shaul—(Searches.) Here, "It's rumored that John Gorney, of House of David fame, is a polygamist. His wives are alleged to be Mary Kapschue and Loretta Taylor."

Miss Heartz—Hooda thunkit?

Miss Shaul—Look at this ad, "Thwart the Brako Screechus," it's one of Ed Bekiesz's new creations. And here's Adele Levandoski's nightly bedtime story, the review of Ruth Cook's latest novel, and Laura Luckett's society page.

Miss Hoffmire—That's quite a paper, may I see it? (Miss Smith hands it to her. Miss Hoffmire reads.) So Eleanor Fisher finally married her ideal. Bill Junge, the street-cleaner, was the lucky man. El always did like brass buttons. Here it says that Mrs. Major Homer Mouthwater, Rosemary Buie to you, entertained the Woman's Club at bridge.

Miss Gay—Bridge? Doc Richardson is designing a bridge over Tony's Brook.

Miss Hoffmire—No! Look at this ad. Isn't it Bob Clark posing for that collar advertisement?

Miss Shaul—The same. And here's one for Henry Billemeyer's "Axle Grease Hair Slick."

Miss Hough—I wanna see the sport section! (Miss Hoffmire passes paper.)

Miss Hough—(Reading.) So Happy Miano made two hits today. And I see that Bill Jones broke the 100 yard dash record by three seconds. Nick Lally's manager, Francis Lapinski, says that Nick will be ready to play pro football next season. I see also that Mike Piazzolla was knocked out last night by the champ.

Miss Seigle—(Reading over Miss Hough's shoulder.) So George Cosenza was arrested as a card shark on Admiral Willard Colvin's boat.

Miss Smith—Isn't Harry Taylor head steward on that ship?

Miss Seigle—Yes, and Betty Farrand's the purser. He always has to go to her for money. History surely repeats itself.

(Bell rings. Voice off stage, "Gas lady.")

Miss Hough—That's a new one. See who it is, Annie. (Exit Miss Smith. Pause. Returns.)

Miss Smith—You'll never guess. It's Alice Bondar. It seems that there are a lot of '33 people around. Why it was only yesterday I met Norman Albers, the sexton at Rev. Shoudy's church. He says Merle Ball is quite an artist now. She paints polka-dots on ties. Evelyn Essig is a nurse, Acie May Brown is a Latin teacher, Herman Sokol teaches English, and Harry Rubenstein drills math into dumb high school students.

Miss Miller—Yes, I met Louise Woodruff, the librarian, on the way to the fashion show. We had an interesting conversation in Bertha Kamienicki's soda shop.

Miss Hoffmire—Did you see Elizabeth Vonthron and Jewell Hoerth, the two mannequins, or Eileen Jackson putting landscaping on hats?

Miss Miller—I stopped on the way to look at Janet Clarkson heating rivets and tossing them to Helen Jacober and Bessy McGowan. They're the only women's riveting team going.

Miss Zinn—Well, Alice Reynolds is the only traveling saleswoman I know of.

Miss Hough—I love to travel, I always wanted to go around with a circus.

Miss Hoffmire—Didn't you go to the circus yesterday? You should have seen the two managers, Manny Stier and George Durgom, in checkered vests. They've got a lot of secretaries; Helen Borowy, Alice Moreland, Charlotte O'Mara, and Madeline Wangner.

Miss Miller—And the clowns! What a scream. Stan Burger and Herm Offschanka brought the house down.

Miss Zinn—Lewis Friedlander leads the band. Len Repsher toots a mean tuba too.

Miss Smith—You should see Clive Dawson and Brewster Spencer, the two giants, and Calvert Evans, the midget, who they say looks like "Wash Tubbs" of the funnies.

Miss Seigle—Russ Kirk is doing pretty well on his shell game. His assistant, Ruth Shindle is swindling the suckers too.

Miss Shaul—Sid Shapiro and Walt Eitelbach are special dentists for the hippo and Al Mildon keeps the rhinoceros from getting B. O.

Miss Gay—We saw George Flenner's Wax-Work Museum. They say Harriet Seelig's company supplies the wax. Seelig wax is the best they say.

Miss Heartz—Tess Galati and Betty Perrine are trapeze artists and Phyllis Gauldin is a snake charmer.

Miss Shaul—Benny Welkind, the barker, was a knock-out blabbing about the three hula-hula dancers, Bea Shuken, Jennette Jacobs, and Norma VonFell, and the drummer, Al Kurdek, with his trusty tom-tom.

Miss Hoffmire—We stopped off to get hot dogs and pink lemonade at a stand run by Dot Durboraw and Marian Taylor. George Jernstedt was selling peanuts and Charlie Hooten had one of those portrait cameras snapping everyone's picture as they passed.

Miss Shaul—Fred Waldron was selling poppies for the war veterans. He said the lion tamer, Russ Henry in person, was messed up by the lion. Doctor Charlie Hammond is still working on the poor guy.

Miss Heartz—Don't forget Jane Baker, the high diver.

Miss Seigle—Or the fireworks. They were run by Margaret Nelson, Helen Jagacinski, and Stella Czernietz.

Miss Miller—Harry Phelps is a stunt flier for the circus and, speaking of flying, Mary Esther Marthis is an air hostess.

Miss Smith—Walt Scanlon, the efficiency expert, offered us a ride home in his new Oston, built by Tom and Bob, but we decided to ride home on the trolley. And say, the conductor was Ken Trimmer with a soupstrainer like a paint brush dipped in a pot of yellow paint.

Miss Hough—Doesn't Helen Darrow paint sore throats now?

Miss Seigle—She always did want to be an interior decorator.

Miss Miller—I saw Virginia Baerenrodt yesterday. She was chasing butterflies.

Miss Gay—Did you know that Jeanette and Inez Johnson are doing fine in the drug store business. Johnson and Johnson y'know.

Miss Zinn—Jean Marthis is Mrs. Ellis now. I suppose one could hardly expect anything Ellis.

Miss Shaul—Kay Maxfield's happy though married to a banker. Her hubby's on a vacation up the river.

Miss Hoffmire—Charlie Petersen is tied up too. He sells door-knobs in Morocco for a living, and Johnny Kalinoski runs a bowling alley in Cedar Grove.

(Door bursts open and Messrs Mason, Walrath, Ross, Poole, and Stover, all in knee-length beards, enter.)

Larry—Helen! We finally got out of the old men's home and have come to make our move in the checker game we started back in 1933. Otto thinks I should have moved my king but we've finally voted to move the other piece. Ain't that right, boys?

All—Sure. (Mr. Ross produces large checker board. All gather around as play starts. Curtain. Much applause!!!!)

The Four Years

Mr. Mason says that one of the most embarrassing moments in his life was when Mr. Poole asked him to walk through the cafeteria at lunch period so that the freshmen might see who he was. They were the seniors of June 1933.

When the class was organized in September 1929, it elected as officers, Wallace McNeary, president; William Berger, vice-president; Helen Amerman, secretary; and William Potts, treasurer.

The initial activity was a reception for parents held Wednesday afternoon, November 13. This set a precedent in Bloomfield High School. Wallace McNeary, master of ceremonies, gave an address of welcome and introduced Mr. Stover and Mr. Poole who spoke briefly. Margaret Lux and Richard Place conducted a reminiscent entertainment which included classical dancing by Virginia Swenson, tap dancing by Adele Walker, violin solos by Charles Jeglikowski, soprano solos by William Findley, readings by William Woodward and comedy by Doyle Garland. The program was concluded with a song rendered by the entire class. A social hour followed in the cafeteria.

In the freshman A term the class held a St. Patrick's dance March twenty-first in the girls' gym. Again the group showed originality by the innovation of a stag dancing contest which was won by Edward Shepard and Joseph Oros.

In the elections of September 1930 a new staff of officers was installed. They were: president, Edward Miller; vice-president, Helen Darrow; secretary, William Berger; and treasurer, William Potts.

The sophomore B dance was a Hallowe'en affair. Adele Walker and Doris Rinker were hostesses and "Rubber" Kriska was master of ceremonies. As an added feature Russ Forest and Johnny Leiss sang solos for the dancers.

On January 28 of the same school year another innovation was made. It was the Sophomore Banquet. Edward Miller presided over the festivities and introduced the speakers, Mr. Stover, Mr. Poole, and Mr. Mason. Afterwards there was a dance in the boys' gym. On this occasion many people made their debuts on the dance floor and still others were given instruction by their classmates.

In September 1931 the class chose for its officers Edward Miller, president; Russell Henry, vice-president; Willard Colvin, secretary; and George Durgom, treasurer.

The big events of the junior year was the Junior Prom held in collaboration with the class of February 1933. Four hundred people, including about one hundred alumni, attended. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross. The junior B members of the committee were Doris Rinker, Louise Garniss, Dorothy Kusler, Edward Miller, Edwin Cook, Bradford Stone, and William Berger.

In June the class dance was held under the management of Russell Henry and Eleanor Fisher. The reputation for originality was upheld by having two orchestras, and by selling pop.

The officers for the senior year, elected in September 1932, were: president, Russell Henry; vice-president, William Potts; secretary, Dorothy Kusler; treasurer, George Durgom.

"Ghost Train", the senior play, was the center of class interest most of the senior B term. Eleanor Fisher, Mary-Esther Marthis, Jane Baker, George Durgom, Russell Henry, and Willard Colvin composed the committee in charge of choosing the play. The business staff included George Durgom, business manager, assisted by George Flenner and John Forsyth; Harry Taylor, advertising manager, assisted by Manuel stier; publicity manager, Frances Perpente. The class was divided into teams for ticket selling. The captains were: Marian Taylor, Jean Marthis, Willard Colvin, and George Durgom.

The cast was as follows:

Miss Bourne	Martha Jane Thomas
Teddie Deakin	William Potts
Elsie Winthrop	Eleanor Fisher, Alice Reynolds
Richard Winthrop	William Junge
Peggy Murdock	Merle Ball
Charles Murdock	Willard Colvin
Julia Price	Doris Rinker
Saul	Fred Black
Price	Charles Hammond
Sterling	George Jernstedt
Officers	Thomas Moran, Charles Hooten

Behind the scenes Edgar Healy was stage manager and chief electrician, assisted by James Conway and Jack Ellis; Victor Grant and Jack Forsyth were in charge of properties; Ruth Crogan was mistress of the wardrobe; and Jean Marthis and Albert Williams were technical advisers.

The senior A dance held in February followed the spirit of Valentine's Day by choosing the King and Queen of Hearts. During the week preceding the dance, everyone in the school voted for the king and queen in his own class. Snapshots of the winners of the preliminary contest were posted in the school calendar. Each person attending the dance had one chance to vote for any two of the eight candidates. George Durgom and Merle Ball from the senior A class were chosen King and Queen of Hearts for Bloomfield High School.

Forty-six seniors, with Mr. Mason and Mrs. Doyle as chaperons, went to Washington April 6, 7, and 8. Two bus-loads left Bloomfield at seventhirty Thursday morning. They took the train at Elizabeth.

After depositing their luggage at the Lee House, their headquarters, the party again boarded buses which took them to Rock Creek Park, Arlington Cemetery, the Lee Mansion, The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and the Lincoln Memorial.

Friday morning the sightseers went to the Washington Monument, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the White House, the National Museum, the Smithsonian Museum, and the Capitol.

The afternoon was devoted to a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon.

In the evening the hotel gave a dance for the Bloomfielders. A few people went to the movies and others, exhausted by the strenuous program, retired, Saturday morning the group went to Annapolis to see the naval academy. In the afternoon about four hours were set aside so that individuals might revisit points of particular interest or do shopping. Several visited the Fransiscan monastery where they saw replicas of sacred land marks abroad.

Hilarity reached the zenith on the train coming home. Nearly everyone was initiated into the "Umpahs", "Burps", or "Hitlerites", headed by Bullets Durgom, Bill Potts and Bill Junge, respectively.

The last project set forth by the class of June 1933 was "The Four Year Plan."

The Hall of Fame

The June 1933 Wing of the Bloomfield Hall of Fame, recently opened, contains an extremely valuable collection of statues. The work of the world's greatest artists, it presents a most pleasing spectacle to the eye.

From either side of the entrance to the vista of figures George Durgom and Merle Ball, most popular in their class, beam upon the spectators. Further on, a more dignified pair, Frances Perpente and Russ Henry, have been judged the most respected.

A statue of Robert Rosevear occupies a prominent position in the hall and nearby is that of Frances Perpente. Both have been acclaimed the hardest workers and the most likely to succeed. Full length figures of Bob Rosevear and Dorothy Kusler, the best leaders, complete the austere group near the door.

Beyond a turn in the aisle, all of the figures are smilling. The most pleasant, Bud Colvin and Jean Marthis, seem to vie with Brad Stone and Martha-Jane Thomas, the most carefree, for the happiest countenance. The latter is represented farther on with George Durgom, over a placque bearing the inscription, "Best Personalities in the Class of June 1933." Nearby, Martha-Jane Thomas and Bill Potts are depicted slapping each other on the shoulder. They are the best sports.

In another group Russ Henry in football togs, and Tess Galati in a gym suit are labeled the best athletes.

Nearby, Bob Clark and Helen Darrow prove by faultless attire that they are neatest. Opposite them Al Williams and Marty-Jane Thomas, the wittiest, are in paroxysms of laughter at each others' remarks.

Bill Berger and Merle Ball lure the visitor further. They are the best looking. Bill Potts and Bea Marsh, the best dancers, are a graceful couple beyond. More performers are in that group; Meyer Melnikoff playing the violin and Doris Durburaw with a flute are the best musicians.

A quartet made up of Russ Henry and Phyllis Gauldin, the quietest, and Charles Shoudy and Norma Von Fell, the noisiest, present a peculiar spectacle. Russ and Phyllis seem to be trying by various methods to silence their two companions.

The next couple are Bill Potts and Alice Reynolds in the midst of a verbal duel, characteristic of their titles, the most sarcastic. Ruth Van Dessel and Doc Richardson, man hater and woman hater, respectively, are posed back to back with poker faces.

A group of three similar couples come next: George Amos and Alice Reynolds, the biggest show-offs; Bill Junge and Kay Maxfield, the biggest bluffers; and Bill Berger and Dot Rinker, the class big-shots.

The onlooker is next attracted by Hap Miano and a bevy of senior A girls. All of them are casting side glances at the clock on the wall. They are the biggest clock watchers.

As a contrast to the innocent scene, Bill Potts and Dot Rinker are represented as getting away with murder. The victim is uncertain, but anyway they have the biggest drag. One is led to believe that Paul Morris and Ginny White are connected with the scene, for both are wringing their hands forlornly, but the label says, "In the most trouble."

Relieving the gloomy atmosphere of the preceding display, George Amos and Merle Ball, the class babies, are toddling around in childish innocence of the cold, dark world in which they live. Their ignorance cannot last long for Jane Dye, the class siren, is perched on a nearby rock combing her golden hair, and Brad Stone, the gigolo, is her companion.

A pair with enormous scissors pique the curiosity. It is Paul Morris and Margaret Lux, the chronic class cutters.

Merle Ball and Bill Junge are labeled, "Gracie Allen and her long lost brother."

Another unique sight is a locker with double doors. Mary-Esther Marthis is leaning against one, and John Gorney, the other. The placque says, "Locker Lizards."

Strangely contrasted with their surroundings, a couple with intelligent looks on their faces, sit, poring over books. They are Divvy Stone and Ruth Van Dessel, the best students. Bill Potts and Bea Shuken, the biggest grouches, are the last of the motley group. They scowl gloomily at the alcove beyond where wax images of famous characters are exhibited.

There are two representations of Romeo and Juliet. One bears a striking resemblance to the Taylor-Farrand combination, and the other to the Henry-Marthis couple. Bing Crosby and Morton Downey seem to be identical twins, perfect likenesses of Charles Hooten. Clark Gable is more like George Jernstedt than himself. The red locks of Clara Bow bring to mind those of Norma Von Fell. A funny man with large horn-rimmed spectacles and a fireman's hat is labeled "Ed Wynn" but he looks like Chig Shoudy. Myrt and Marge of radio fame are personified by the Kusler-Mc-Carthy combination.

Last but not least, the great Rubinoff, violin in hand, but no—it's Meyer Melnikoff.

Ye Olde Stone Age Annuale

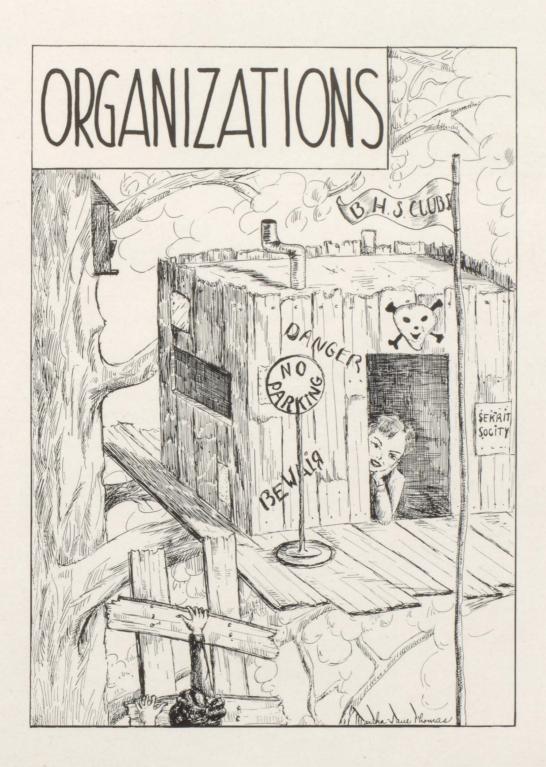

Now that the Annual is finished the only thing we have to be thankful for is that we weren't editors of an Annual back in Ye Stone Age. Just imagine yelling, "Hey boys, send up a copy of page eight," and having four piano movers lug in a slab of granite two feet square and four inches thick. And then there was the proof-reader, armed with a pneumatic hammer putting commas after dependent clauses.

We can hardly imagine calling in a crew of tomb-stone cutters to copy the class history? Nor would we like to call the typists chisellers.

That is not all. Delivery would be kind of awkward. Ninetyodd pages would be rather weighty, yet no one could walk off with your book, that is certain.

Autographing is bad enough as it is. Can you imagine grinding your mark into one hundred and ninety of your classmates' books?

While one can scarcely expect to use "The Four Year Plan" as a tombstone, perhaps we aren't so bad off after all. Consider the embarrassment of your ancestors when they dropped a book on their toes.

THE BAND, under the direction of Floyd T. Jordan, placed in the fourth division of the New Jersey State Band Contest. Much favorable comment was given to the band, because of performances at football and basketball games and assembly periods. An innovation in the form of a band concert was one of the highlights of the May Festival.

THE BOYS' GLEE CLUB, directed by A. Dixi Crosby, holds rehearsals during the fifth period on Fridays. The Club sings at graduations and presents a portion of the Annual May Music Festival. Rendering well-known pieces in hearty style the boys are assisted at the piano by Theodore Ullmann. Edward Brennan is soloist and student leader.

THE CHEMISTRY CLUB, one of the most active in the school, is limited to seniors. Every year the club takes charge of one assembly period. This year they procured Dean Cullimore of the Newark College of Engineering who spoke on chemistry and its application to various industries. Parents' Night, an innovation this year, was an outstanding event.

THE GERMAN CLUB which has at present a membership of thirty-five pupils, aims to interest students in a wider cultural knowledge of German. Several trips one of which was a visit to a German museum, have been made by this group. Each year the club donates a prize to the graduating student who has the best record in German.

THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB sings at every graduation and May Festival. The girls who attend all the meetings receive, at the end of the year, a guard for the Glee Club pin. The club organization entertained the Woman's Club at Christmas and also helped out in the Yuletide program in the assembly. This year the club added a musical comedy to its activities.

THE GIRL RESERVES, conducted under the supervision of the Y. W. C. A., consists of over sixty high school girls who meet to plan useful and interesting things to do. During the past year, the Girl Reserves have aroused much interest in welfare work. The members have made clothes for the poor children, and have donated many bundles to the school welfare projects.

THE HI-Y has enjoyed another very successful year. By giving a benefit show, the club did its bit for charity; turning over the proceeds, one hundred and nineteen dollars and many bundles of clothes to the League for Friendly Service. Because of the fellowship offered, membership in this club is the aim of almost every fellow in high school.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB is one of the outstanding clubs in Bloomfield High School. Throughout the year, trips are taken which are of benefit to every member. Every June a picnic is held in honor of the graduating members. Each semester the initiation dinner affords much interest. The club has been most successful under the leadership of its adviser, Miss Schauffler.

THE LATIN CLUB has had an active season. Miss Gay attended the Vermont State Teachers' Convention and spoke on "The Romance of a Pioneer Latin Club." The fall meetings featured the Supplicatio and Saturnalia, which correspond to Thanksgiving and Christmas. At the Christmas meeting, gifts bearing Latin greetings were exchanged and given to the poor. The club's most admirable accomplishment was a food drive.

THE ORCHESTRA was represented this year on the All-State High School Orchestra by Peter Manetto and Meyer Melnikoff. A few of the orchestra members provided the music for the musical comedy, "Ship Ahoy." The Orchestra participated in part of the program on the high school night of Music Week. The Orchestra will be sadly depleted when the lordly seniors graduate.

THE SPHINX SOCIETY has as its main objective the promotion of historic interest throughout the school. During the past year, besides the regular business meetings the club has done research work and conducted a debate. The members made a trip to the Newark Museum. Now it is sponsoring the sale of the book ''Bloomfield, Old and New.''

THE STUDENT COUNCIL is comprised of one member from each home room. It sponsored a magazine compaign and a movie, the proceeds of which went to the College Loan Fund. The officers of the Council visited various high schools hoping to improve the organization. Eleanor Henderson resigned as president in February and William Berger, the vice-president, automatically succeeded her.

THE STUDENT PRINTS has spent an active year. At the Columbia Convention, Robert Rosevear, editor-in-chief for the first semester, spoke on linoleum cuts. His successor, Robert Harvey, edited the traditional "Stewed Prince." Fifteen staff members graduate: Robert Rosevear, Frances Perpente, Helen Amerman, Eleanor Fisher, Helen Darrow, Alice Reynolds, Bernard Welkind, George Durgom, Martha-Jane Thomas, Jean Marthis, Beatrice Shuken, Mary Bagley, Ella Halvorson, Edward Bekeisz, and Wilfrid Jones.

Baseball

The baseball team had a very successful season this year. Although quite a few of the regulars were playing their first season, they succeeded in beating two of their chief rivals, Nutley and Irvington, both by scores of 3-2. Their record for the season was seven games won and five lost.

In a tournament game for the State Championship they lost to Irvington, whom they had beaten earlier in the season. Despite this defeat the team was highly rated among the class A high school teams of the state.

Basketball

The Bloomfield High School basketeers enjoyed a good season, winning ten games and losing six. Next year's team will lack Jerry McGovern, Harry Phelps, Jimmie Curren, and Herman Offshanka.

Some of the season's highlights were: The thrilling basket by Jerry McGovern in the last minute of the Orange game. Losing both battles to Morristown. The humiliating defeat in the first Glen Ridge game. The final score being 22 to 27. The game forefeited by Kearny. The heave from midcourt by Choborda to take the game for Irvington. The last game of the season, incidentally the worst. The score, Passaic 51, Bloomfield 12. Finally the fine playing of Eddie Berlinski during the entire season.

Football

Bloomfield opened its football season September 24 with a 6-0 victory over St. Peter's Prep. After taking Belleville into camp, Paterson Central was beaten in an interesting game. South Side was beaten to the tune of 19 to 0. Bay Ridge was pushed under 35 to 0.

After a set-back of 32 to 0 by Dickinson, a weather beaten Bloomfield team lost to Irvington by a score of 18 to 6. The following week a scrappy Bloomfield combination took over the much-touted Nutley boys 13 to 7.

The annual Thanksgiving Day game with Montclair resulted in a 6-0 victory for Bloomfield.

The post season game with Kearny for the benefit of the unemployed of both towns, ended in a 32 to 13 victory for Bloomfield.

The Dickinson game was later forfeited because of the ineligibility of a Dickinson player. This gave Bloomfield the North Jersey Championship but Coach Foley did not put in an application for it.

Track

With a stout fighting heart but lacking experience the Red and Grey track squad started the season on the cinders. It was not a victory-studded season as Bloomfield High School won one meet of six held.

There was a dearth of good material, although the turnout of candidates was sufficient, the performance of the individuals was negligible. This was possibly because of the fewer number of meets held.

Five men received the coveted "B", which is given for acquiring sixteen or more points in one season: Captain Wilfrid Jones, George Jernstedt, Daniel Mcheski, William Wright, and Charles Shoudy.
